Judge Gaffney and Myrtle Mae console Veta Louise in a scene from "Harvey."

Pat, Ed, Sandy, and Henry stop to chat at a Friday night dance after a home basketball game.

1957's Queen, Carol VonStein, places the ribbon on Anne-Elisabeth Krogstad, the 1958 Homecoming Queen.

Becky, Jo, and Bruce chat about their school activities as they meet in the lobby before classes.

Jack Hermann introduces the "Bird in the Gilded Cage," who is Jo Politylo for her song between acts of the Junior Play.

The lunchroom chatter is at its peak; girls can always eat and talk.

Noullet laterals to Golla for a Shaler gain.

Edie, Joe, Elisabeth, and Frank prepare for a football game performance.

FOREWORD

A picture is worth 1000 words, 1000 words are worth 1000 memories.

WITH GREAT PRIDE we present the 1959 edition of SHALER-ESQUE, in whose pages we have turned events into memories. Here we give the Shaler year 1958-59 as we lived it; and the many things we have done, whether academic, athletic, or social, will be recalled both by picture and by word. The picture of our school on the first page shows what a passer-by might see of Shaler; but the pages inside show the Shaler her students and faculty see. For it is the teachers, students, and parents joining and working together who make Shaler what it is, who give Shaler a distinctive personality.

We present to you, therefore, all the fun, work, and successes of which we have been a part. We have captured every phase of school life in these pages so that nothing we have done this year will be lost from memory.

ACTIVITY	16
ATHLETIC	44
CLASS	62
ACADEMIC	96

The 1958 Homecoming Queen has just been announced and is being escorted by the 1957 Queen.

CONTENTS

The Shaler High students are enjoying the Junior-Senior Prom at Churchill Valley Country Club.

In a scene from "Harvey" Mrs. Chauvenet and Veta Louise greet each other as Myrtle Mae watches.

Eileen Heller, head cheerleader, led the students in their cheers at both home and away games.

The "gay-nineties" bathing beauties perform at the Junior Play.

ACTIVITIES

Elwood P. Doud puts his arm around his beloved Harvey.
Becky and Pat, better known as the Pussyfoots, had an act in the Junior Play.

Malvern Larkfield sticks out his chest as the hero in
"Caught in the Villain's Web."

"What do I do now, Coach???" asks John, after he breaks loose.

Two points for Shaler coming up.

Down he goes.

Right on target.

The winning run?

They're off.

Wetzel sweeps the half-mile.

ATHLETICS

First and goal to go.

Mr. Hench, Mr. Boyer, and Mr. Winkler discuss the plans for remodeling and enlarging the science department.

The teachers all enjoy the faculty Christmas tea.

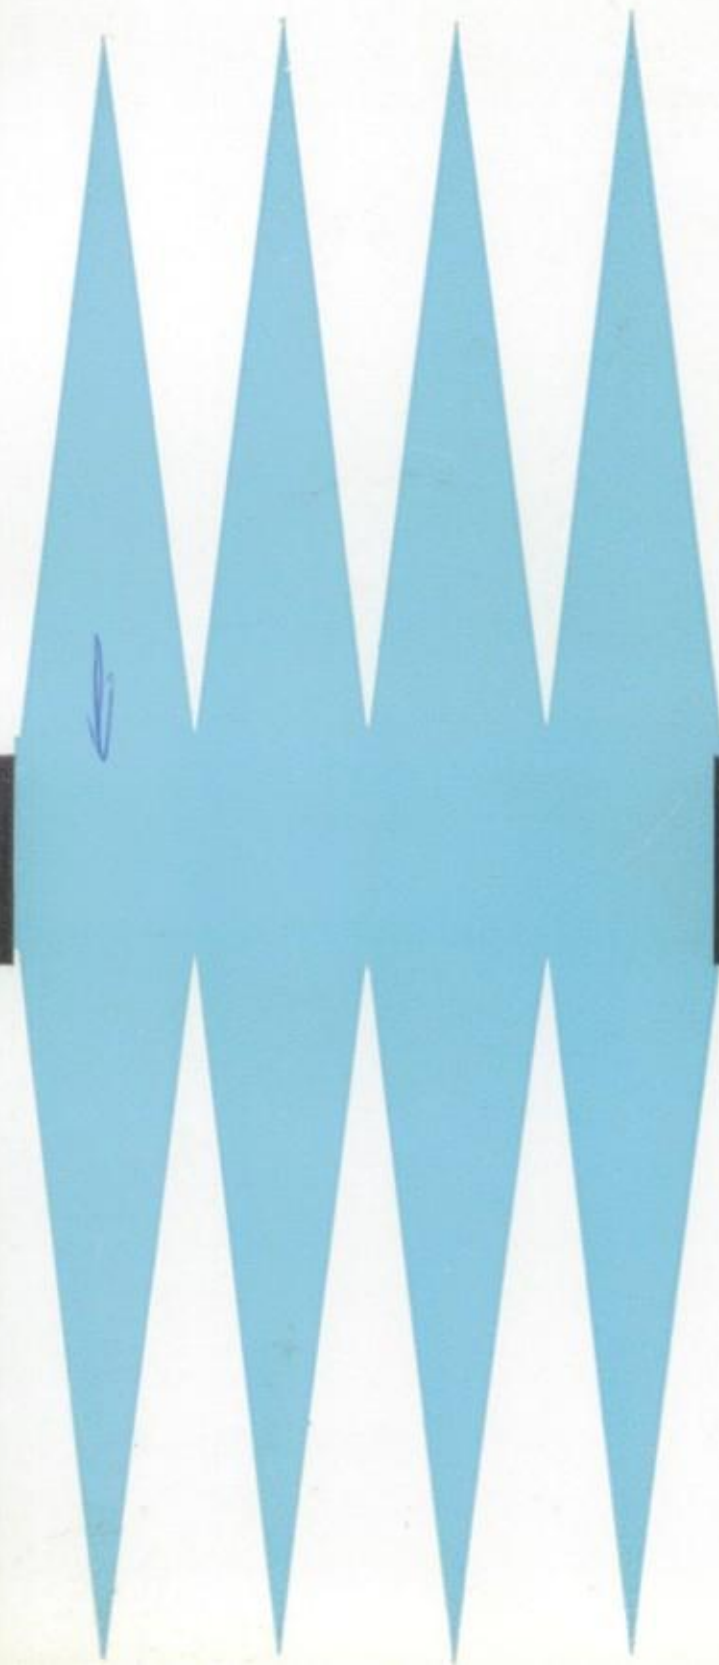

The faculty attend the tea for Mrs. Langer, a December bride.

The medical staff at Shaler are: Mrs. Rittman, the school's nurse; Dr. Wallace, the doctor; and Dr. Ressler, the dentist.

FACULTY

Mr. Segina, Mr. Yankovic, Mr. Seibert, and Mr. Chalfant "sign out" in the office after school.

Jane, Joan, Joyce, Linda, and Olive paint to music in Mr. Lakowski's art class.

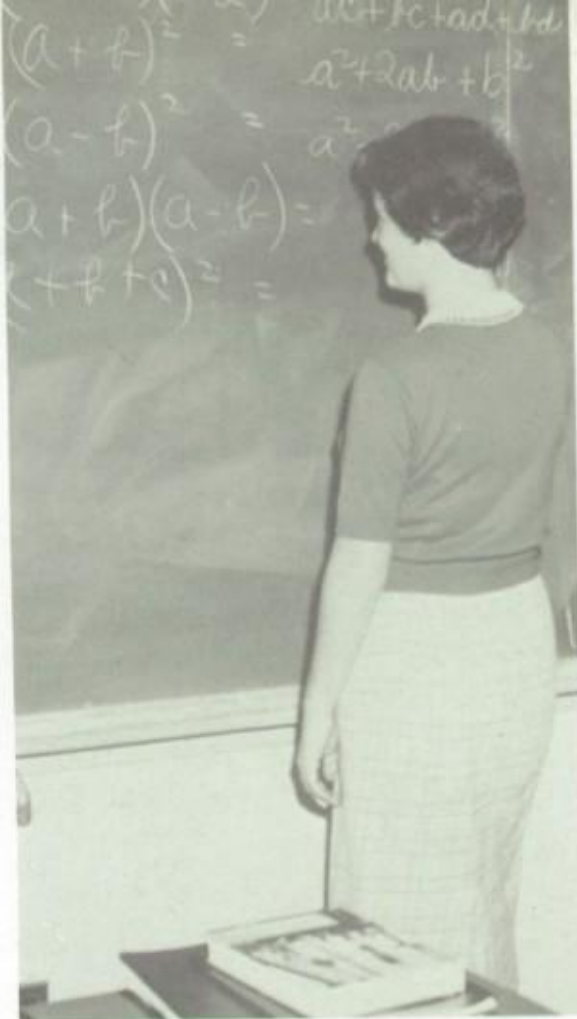

Joan, Bob, and Barbara are involved in a panel discussion in history class.

Students in Miss Bauer's Typing II class practice building speed and accuracy.

These ninth grade general science students hope the experiment works.

Judy Markman wonders how algebra can be so complicated.

CLASSES

ACTIVITIES

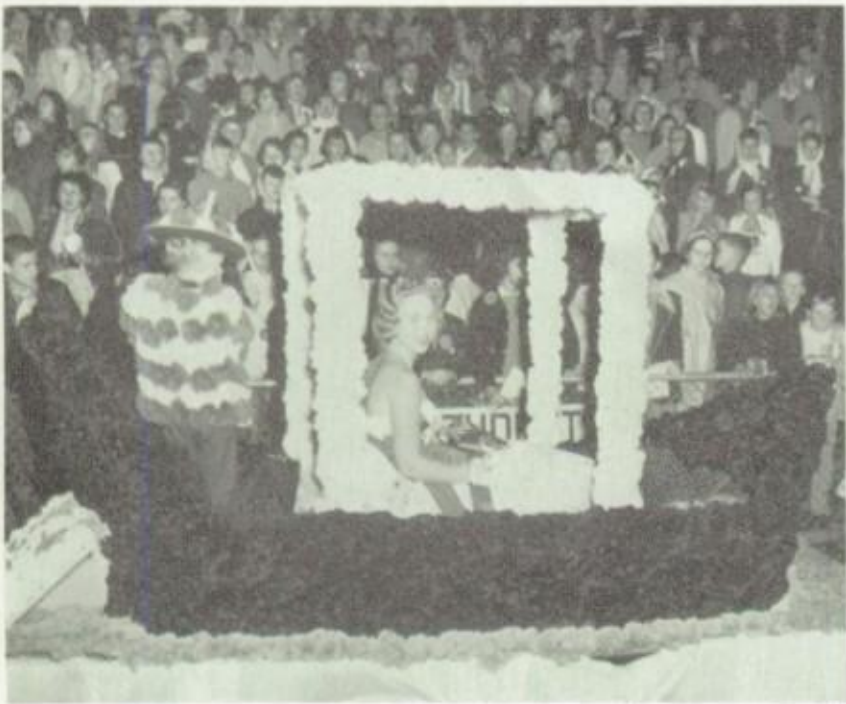

QUEEN ELISABETH

Anne-Elisabeth Krogstad, queen of Student Council's float, and Linda Rodenbaugh, dressed in a Norwegian costume, ride on the winning float of the 1958 Homecoming.

FOREIGN COUNTRIES HOMECOMING THEME

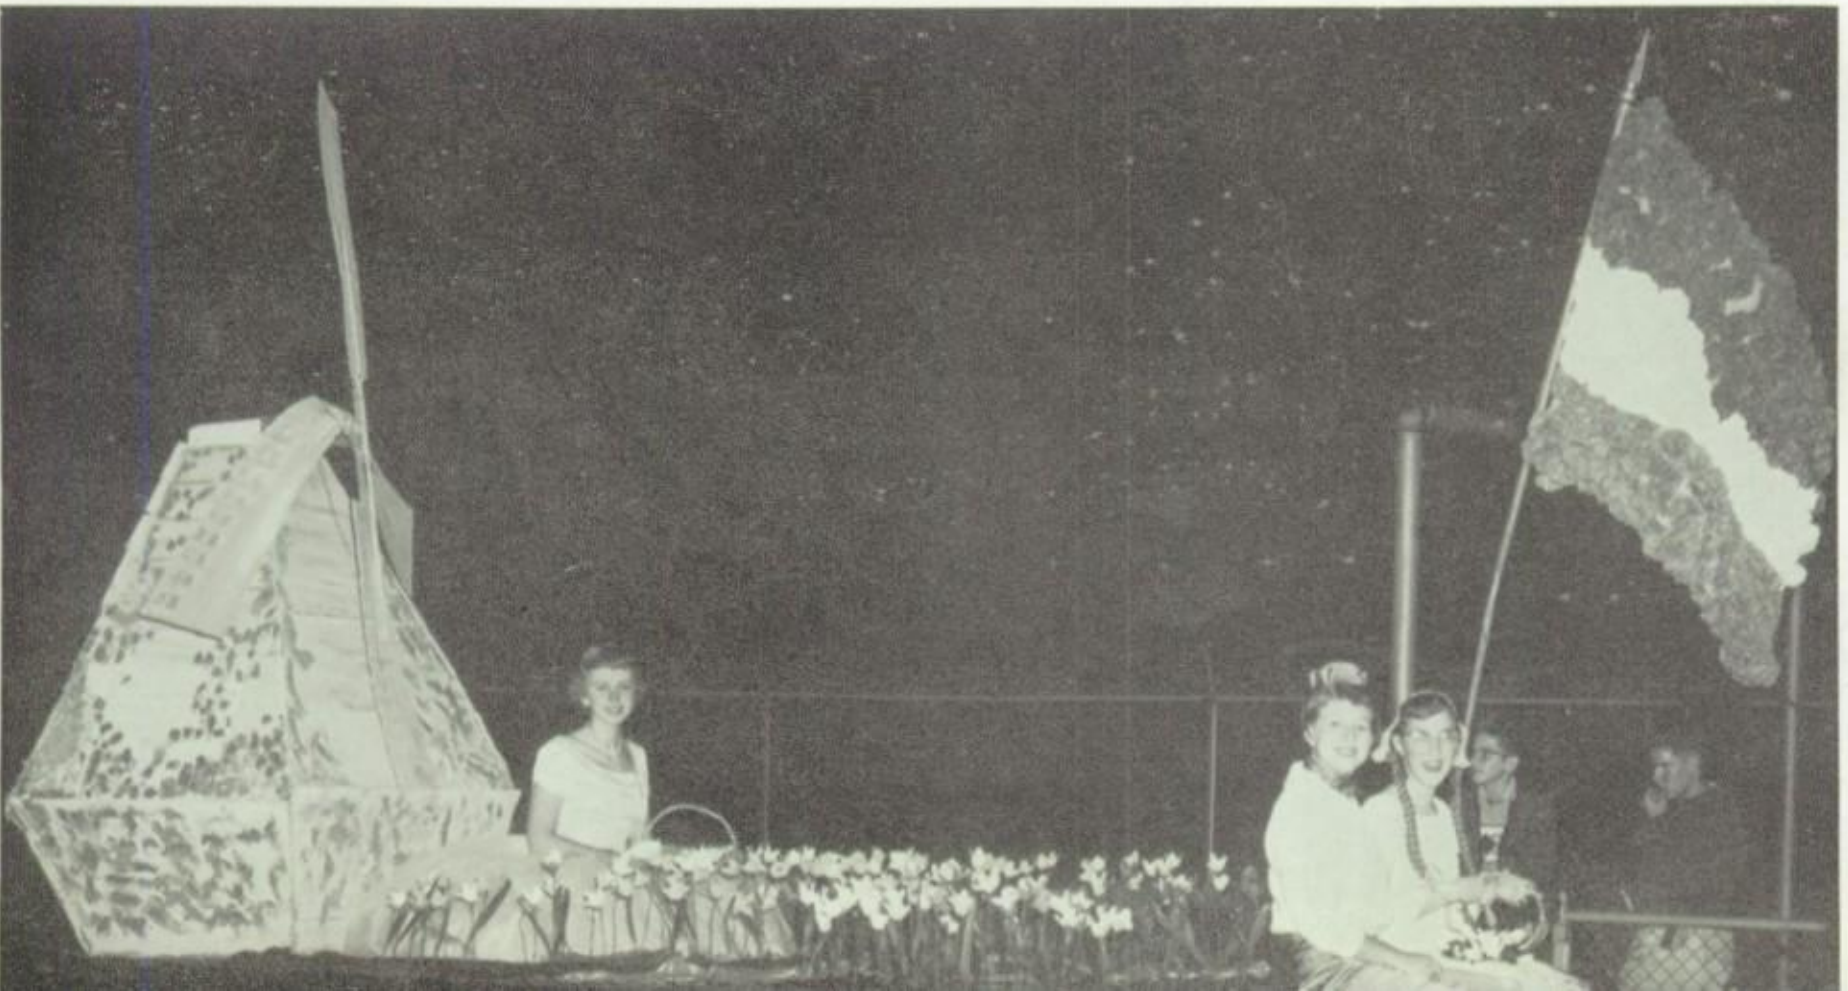

Shaler's second annual homecoming was held on October 17 during the halftime of the Shaler-Elizabeth-Forward football game. Thirty-three floats, each representing a foreign country, paraded around the field. The climax of the evening was the crowning of the 1958 Homecoming Queen, Anne-Elisabeth Krogstad.

Italy is represented in the Band's float with Pat Phillips as the queen.

Queen Judy Stypula and attendant Mary Fox ride on 11-6's float representing China.

A tulip garden in Holland is the float of the Leader's Club which chose Pat Daugherty as its queen and Joyce Hutchison and Judy Kay as the two Dutch girls.

Among the many and varied activities at Shaler, the dances are one of the most popular. There are dances after almost every sport contest at Shaler. Climaxing the football season, a dance is held in which the Football King and Queen are crowned. Eileen Heller and David Ruff represented the Shaler students' image of Queen and King. Eileen is the head cheerleader and Dave is a three-letter man. Also during the year, special dances are held such as the Heart Hop, sponsored by Scoop. The king and queen at this dance are seniors picked by the drawing of hearts. The lucky winners for 1959 were Peggy Cerminara and Ed Flower. Student Council's Spring Frolic, always a popular dance, is one of the post-Easter festivities.

Eileen Heller and Dave Ruff, Football Queen and King of 1959, dance after being crowned.

SHALERITES ARE ENTHUSIASTIC DANCERS

Last Year's Football King and Queen, Ralph Scobbo and Rose Dulak, crown the 1959 Football King and Queen, Dave Ruff and Eileen Heller.

CASCADING MUMS WERE PROM DECORATIONS

The Junior-Senior Prom, held in November at the Churchill Valley Country Club, is an occasion everyone remembers. Here a Junior girl, chosen by the Junior class, reigns as Queen. The secret identity of the name of the Queen is not revealed until the night of the Prom. Then as the ten girls assembled on the dance floor, Linda Rodenbaugh was singled out and a beautiful crown was placed on her head signifying she was Queen of the Junior-Senior Prom. In May the big dance of the year, the Senior Prom, takes place. This year it was held at the Baldoc Hills Country Club, and was a tremendous success. All these dances, some of which are completely planned by the students, supplied entertainment for all the students at Shaler.

The Junior-Senior Prom this year was an event well-worth remembering.

Linda Rodenbaugh was the lucky girl who was crowned Queen of the Junior Prom.

Many couples circle the dance floor during an ever-popular number.

As Veta Louise talks to Judge Gaffney, she hunts for money to pay the cab driver while Myrtle Mae watches.

Elwood listens contentedly to Harvey, whose picture is in the background.

"HARVEY" CHARMS

This year's senior class play was the gay comedy, "Harvey." The title character, a huge white rabbit, is invisible to everyone except Elwood P. Dowd. Veta Louise tries in vain to commit her lovable brother, Elwood, to Dr. Chumley's Rest Home. But, to everyone's surprise, Veta is put in instead of Elwood. After a confusing ordeal, Veta decides that she loves Elwood and Harvey and will put up with them in her house.

Mrs. Chumley explains to Dr. Sanderson, Nurse Kelly, and Dr. Chumley that Elwood was just there at the rest home looking for Harvey.

HIS AUDIENCE

Elwood introduces Harvey to Mrs. Chauvenet as his sister, Veta Louise, and his niece, Myrtle Mae, console each other in their state of disgrace.

WE ENJOYED CHEERING THE HERO AND

Mrs. Hargrave and her spoiled daughter, Nella, have come to visit Mrs. Larkfield and her "baby" daughter, Lona. Denise and Brockton stand in the background ready to be of service.

The hero, Malvern Larkfield, revives Felicity while Mrs. Hargrave and Nella watch with disgust.

The Honey Sisters, Holly Best, Joyce Hutchison, and Ellen Moore, provided entertainment during intermission.

HISSING THE VILLAIN

Cyril Bothingwell tries to use his charm and influence on the French maid, Denise.

Cyril and Malvern fight over Felicity, as she gets ready to fight Cyril herself.

The villain, Bothingwell, informs the heroine, Felicity Fair, that she has been married to him for several years.

The class of 1959 presented for its Junior play, "Caught in the Villain's Web," a dramatic melodrama.

Felicity Fair, a trained nurse, is sent to care for Mrs. Larkfield, who wants her son Malvern to marry the scheming Nella Hargrave. Malvern, however, falls in love with Felicity who unhappily informs him that she can never marry due to a loss of memory. Now the evil Cyril poses as her husband to catch her in his web. But fate foils his plans and allows Felicity to marry Malvern by restoring her memory.

STUDENT COUNCIL ENCOURAGED WIDER

Shaler's Student Council is a combination of students and teachers working together for the benefit of both. All activities at Shaler this year were promoted or approved by Student Council. This year Student Council began by giving all the teachers a small potted plant and the new women teachers received a corsage to welcome them to Shaler. The highlight of the year was the financing of a Norwegian exchange student, Ann-Elisabeth Krogstad. Elisabeth discovered her environment at Shaler was very different from the surroundings at her home in Norway.

To promote more Christmas spirit, Student Council sponsored the annual door-decorating contest. Unique and attractive decorations were created by the various homeroom members. Homecoming and the Winter Carnival were the two most successful events of the year. The money received from the Winter Carnival will help finance next year's exchange student.

Student Council gave our students an opportunity to represent Shaler on the WIIC Teen Club. Judy Kay informed the viewers of our high academic standards, and Bob Trowbridge spoke on the varied athletic program. The television appearance was worthwhile.

Shaler's Student Council of 1958-1959 did a fine job of representing all students of Shaler, giving everyone a chance to be recognized, and of furthering school spirit.

Biff Jones, Vice President; Corine Yoder, Secretary; Linda Rodenbaugh, Assistant Secretary; Bob Trowbridge, Treasurer; and Glenn Breitzig, President, discuss the future plans for Student Council.

ACTIVITY PARTICIPATION

Bob Trowbridge and Glenn Breitzig admire each other's souvenirs from Colorado.

Glenn Breitzig is our first junior to be Student Council President.

Mr. Winkler discusses plans for the Winter Carnival with Glenn, Pat, Bill, John, and Anita.

Judy Arnold, president of National Honor, Sandy Schueler, president of Commercial Club, and Frank Hull, president of Modern Language Club represent three of Shaler honorary activities.

Modern Language Club is a new activity at Shaler this year. It is open to all students who maintain a B average or better in their second year of Spanish, French or Latin. It takes part in school activities and sponsors a dance.

To be considered eligible for membership in the National Honor Society, students must have an average of B or better. This society is interested in embodying the four basic ideals initialed in the corners of the keystone, the insignia of the society. These ideals are character, leadership, service, and scholarship.

The membership of the Commercial Club consists of eleventh and twelfth grade students in the Commercial department who have attained high scholastic standing. Among their projects this year are the selling of United States Savings Stamps and Sheaffer's Cartridge Pens.

Paul Wagner, Varsity Club president, Anita Wright, Leaders' president, and Paul Carlson, Science Club president lead three popular and prominent activities at Shaler.

Varsity Club consists of senior high boys who have earned a varsity athletic letter. Although the main purpose is to provide recognition to those boys, the club members also assist in the intramural program.

Leader's Club is composed of junior and senior girls who have an average of B or better in gym and who show outstanding characteristics of leadership. This club was organized to promote proficiency and leadership in athletics. For its social activity, the junior Leaders each year entertain the senior members with dinner and an entertainment which includes skits, games, and an old-fashioned songfest.

Science Club is a group of senior high boys who are interested in science. These boys perform student demonstrations and make reports to their science classes on the field of science. This year they visited Shippingport Atomic Reactor as a field trip.

Library Club is available to any student who enjoys working in the library. These students help keep the books in order and also help check books out. The members of the club and Miss Emrick meet once a month to discuss new books.

The school year of 1958-1959 marked the revival of the Shaler Key Club. Sponsored by the Kiwanis Club International, Key Club is a service organization designed to be an aid to the school and the community. The club has a membership of thirty boys and is sponsored at Shaler by Mr. Dixon. In future years Key Club hopes to build a very active organization which will provide Shaler with a source of effective leadership in the various fund drives and campaigns.

Paul Wagner represents Key Club and Loretta Sudetic leads Library Club in their many activities.

SHALERESQUE HOPES TO REPEAT TRIUMPH

Joy and Joanne find that accounts and dummies are all part of the job.

We were all understandably proud when the 1958 SHALERESQUE received the Columbia University Scholastic medalist rating. Each year this award is given on the basis of standards established by Columbia University Scholastic Press. To follow an award winning year book is a difficult and challenging assignment to any staff. The staff of this year's book worked very hard to meet in every respect the standards which have been set and to make this year's annual deserving of commendation in keeping with the example set by last year's staff.

For the first time, this year's SHALERESQUE includes a four color picture page. The composition of the book is centered entirely around the artistic aspect. This is represented in the graceful diamonds and the blue coloring. Thus, we see our school through an artist's eye.

Due to the fact that there was a small SHALERESQUE staff this year, each member learned more about writing a yearbook. They each had a chance to help the photographer, to mount pictures, to work on the dummy, and to do the other jobs necessary to produce a yearbook.

Scoop, which is Shaler's bi-weekly newspaper, has improved greatly this last year. The senior high Scoop was increased from four to six pages, thus increasing the amount of school news and school personalities. It was put on a regular newspaper basis by organizing page editors and by using subheadings for the larger stories. The staff consists of senior high school students who, through their creative writing, cover the school news. The staff also sponsored the annual Heart Hop with the help of Miss Bechtel. Holly Best as editor and Miss Bechtel as sponsor supervised the planning and publication of Scoop and its activities. This year's staff has raised Scoop's journalistic standards also. They learned the journalistic style of writing and put it to use in their reporting. According to newspaper technique, each reporter was given a definite number of words to write on a particular subject, thus insuring better coverage.

Page editors of Scoop carefully check over the accuracy of the current newspaper for things to watch in later issues.

WINTER CARNIVAL HIGHLIGHTS YEAR

The third annual Winter Carnival, held on February 27, was one of the many activities sponsored by the 1958-59 Student Council. All the students in the various clubs and organizations worked hard to make this year's carnival the best ever. The booths were colorfully and attractively decorated. There were all types of entertainment at the various booths. Modern Language Club sold flowers, the Majorettes had a weight-guessing contest, Future Nurses sponsored the Voo-Doo dart game, and Leader's Club presented the very popular Dunk-a-Dame. These are just a few of the many entertaining booths which were sponsored at the Winter Carnival this year. The gym was opened throughout the evening for dancing. The stage show, held in the auditorium at 10 o'clock, played to an over-capacity crowd. Personalities such as Tim Kirby and Bobby Vinton performed and Shaler's own Swing Band gave one of its best performances to make the 1959 Winter Carnival successful.

Jean Brown stands by the Voo-Doo Man, which was Future Nurses' booth at the Winter Carnival.

Frank Hull hands Joanne Burton the puppy which was given in a drawing by Modern Language Club.

Shaler's Swing Band accompanied Bobby Vinton as he entertained those at the Winter Carnival.

Eileen Heller makes a face as she sees another pie being thrown at her.

BAND DISPLAYS PEP AND SKILL TO

The Shaler High Band under the direction of Mr. Myers performed many clever and original shows during the 1958-1959 school season. Before presenting these, however, the band had a work-out at Band Camp in August of 1958. Among the first presentations were those at the half time of most football games, where the band, together with the majorettes and drum majors, displayed its talent. These shows also called for band practice not only during school, but also after school. In addition to football games, the band participated in parades held in the area and also in band festivals at Richland and Penn Hills.

When football season ended, the Concert Band appeared on the Shaler scene. Along with serious music, this band performs many popular pieces and presents on annual concert in May.

Band members help each other prepare for the inspection which is held before each football game.

OPERETTA YEAR'S

The music department had a very successful year under the new director, Mr. Keister. The first performance was the Thanksgiving assembly featuring the Ninth Grade Choir, Sophomore Choir, and Chapel Choir. During the Christmas season, the Sophomore and Chapel Choir presented the annual Christmas pageant for the public and the student body. Also during the holiday season, the Chapel Choir visited the six grade schools in the township and presented a program of Christmas music. In March, the senior high school choirs performed an Easter assembly for the junior and senior high schools in separate programs.

The music department had two major achievements this year. The first was the operetta, The Fortune Teller, performed for the public on April 3. The spring concert, presented on May 5, was dedicated to Mr. Bell, our music director for twenty years, who died on March 5. The proceeds from this program went toward a memorial to be established in his honor.

Many new activities were organized in the Chapel Choir this year. The Swing Band Group, which sang with the Swing Band, and the Ensemble, a group of twenty students which sang for various organizations, were started. Other organizations which were continued were the Senior Girls' Trio, Junior Girls' Trio, and the Boys' Octet.

With the singing at Baccalaureate, Chapel Choir ended another enjoyable and successful year of participation in the varied activity program of Shaler.

The following girls sing as a triple trio: McNalley, Wetzel, Henderson, Craig, Lavsa, Kral, Reese, Greig.

Head cheerleader Eileen Heller teaches Joyce Cook and co-head Ginny Harrigan how to yell a new cheer.

The Shaler cheerleaders made themselves known this year by successfully leading the spectators at the different athletic programs in cheering the Shaler Huskies on to victory. Band Camp last August provided the extensive training program for these girls to get them in shape. Here, too, they worked out new cheers and routines.

The varsity cheerleaders, captained by Eileen Heller, and the junior varsity cheerleaders, headed by Betty Milbert, led the cheers at the football and basketball games. The junior high cheerleaders joined the Pep Club and the other spectators in cheering the Huskies.

HUSKIES' AA DEBUT SEASON IMPRESSIVE

September 12 the Huskies opened the 1958 football season with a league game against their traditional rival, North Hills, in which they were defeated 24-0. Unable to score in the first three quarters, the Huskies' last chance came in the fourth quarter with a fifty-six yard pass from Noullet to Ball, who carried to the nine yard line. However, the attempt to score was unsuccessful.

The Shaler team showed superior skill in their second game as they whipped Langley 27-14 at home. Shaler scored midway in the first quarter on a drive by Kuzniewski. Early in the second quarter Bob John scored on a one yard plunge.

Shaler was victorious in the exhibition game at Kiski Springs Prep School with touchdowns by Kress, Kuzniewski and Ritter.

Shaler scored its third victory of the season as they defeated North Allegheny 31-6. In the first quarter halfback Golla scored from the one yard line; then Bob John ran 45 yards for a touchdown in the third quarter.

At Norwin, Shaler played its hardest game of the season. Norwin scored early in the first period, but Shaler came back with a touchdown by Ruff on a 30 yard run and a conversion to go ahead 7-6. In the last period Shaler held off a tremendous attack by Norwin to win 26-20.

The powerful Huskies won their fifth game as they defeated Elizabeth-Forward with the score board revealing their ability to play as a team.

Shaler's final home game was played against Penn Hills in which Penn Hills was the victor, 33-13. In the second quarter John plunged over from the two yard line for Shaler's first score.

Due to several injuries to key players, including a severe ankle sprain which took Zappa out of action, the Huskies lost to Har-Brack. This marked Shaler's first League competition with the Tigers. The score ended 21-0. An underdog Shaler team made a valiant try, but just couldn't roll.

Senior Bob John, left halfback, attempts to block an opponent and make a gain.

Assistant coach Richard Dixon and Shaler players watch excitedly as the Shaler team defeats Langley.

Mr. Galbraith gives Ron Noulett and Bob John instructions about the play to call.

On November 7, the Shaler Huskies won their final game of the 1958 football season by defeating Bethel 36-14 on the loser's home field. Shaler's first touchdown was scored by Ruff in the first half on a fifteen yard touchdown dash. Later Noulett plunged over from the five yard line for Shaler's second score. Ruff scored a touchdown again in the third quarter. Ashton and Eisenhower accounted for the final touchdown, enabling Shaler to win their final game of the season.

Paul Wagner was awarded recognition as the most valuable player on the Herald All-Star Team while Bill Ritter and Henry Ball both made the second team of the Herald All-Stars.

HUSKY HOOPSTERS

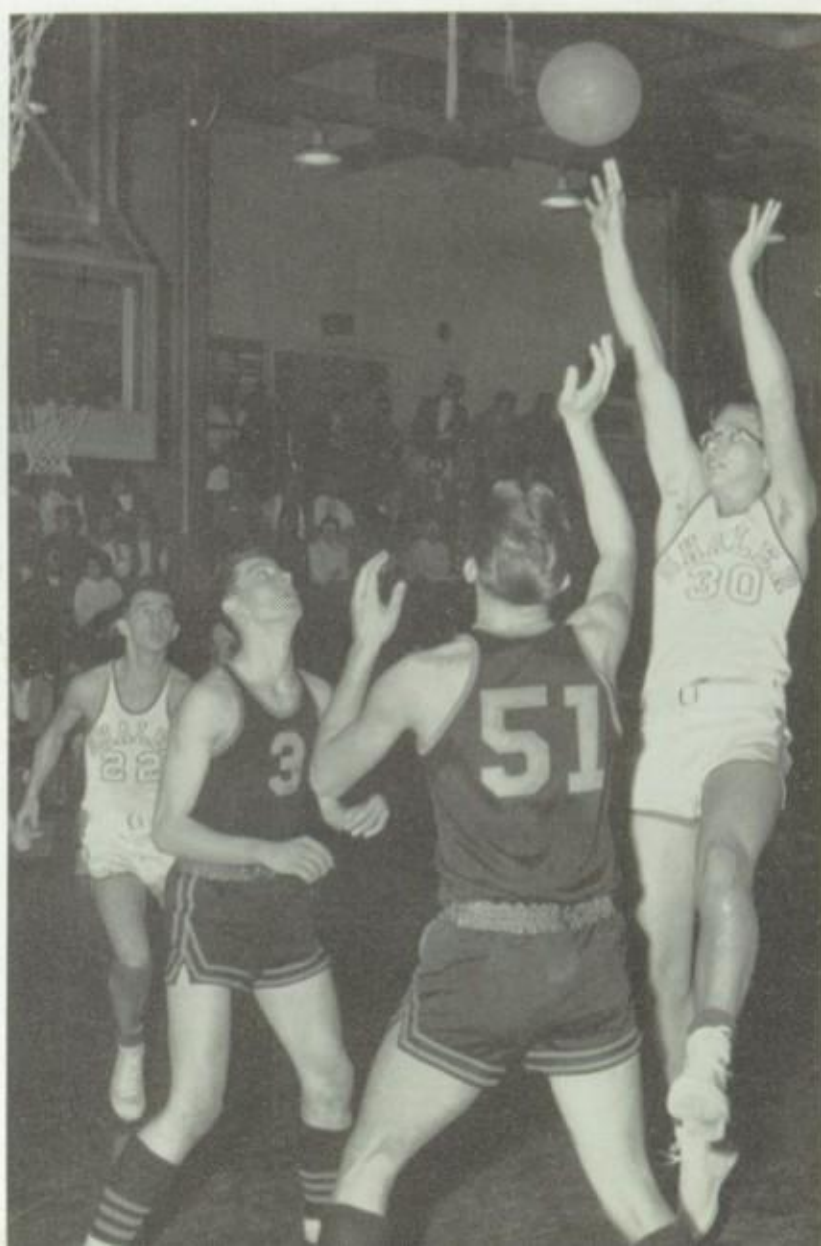

The 1958-1959 varsity basketball season opened with only two returning lettermen, but it closed with several outstanding and valuable players. High scorers were Jim Smith and Ed Tessmer, who made 252 and 249 points, respectively. These two players represented Shaler in the Herald All-Star games. Ed Tessmer had the highest individual game for the year with 27 points in the Stowe game. Dick Bailey was second with 24 points in the North Allegheny game. These two boys showed the most improvement on the team and Dave Ruff came on good in the second half of the season. The letter winners this year were seniors Jim Smith, Ed Tessmer, Dick Bailey, and Dave Ruff, and junior Bob Mullens, who will be the only returning letterman next year.

The Husky basketball team played many thrilling games this season. One outstanding game was the first one played with Coraopolis. Shaler came from behind 8 points in the fourth quarter to beat Coraopolis on their own floor by 2 points. This was one of the few games this year in which Shaler could claim the breaks. As far as the Husky basketball season was concerned, the Shaler five had to do it the hard way every time.

SHALER SECOND IN CHRISTMAS TOURNEY

At the North Hills game, Jim Smith made a long shot at the end of the game which would have tied the game. However, the official scorer said that it wasn't shot before the final buzzer. Shaler would have beaten the first place team, Stowe, if a Stowe player had not made a long shot with only a few seconds remaining in the game. This put the game into overtime, and although Shaler put up a hard struggle, Stowe finally won.

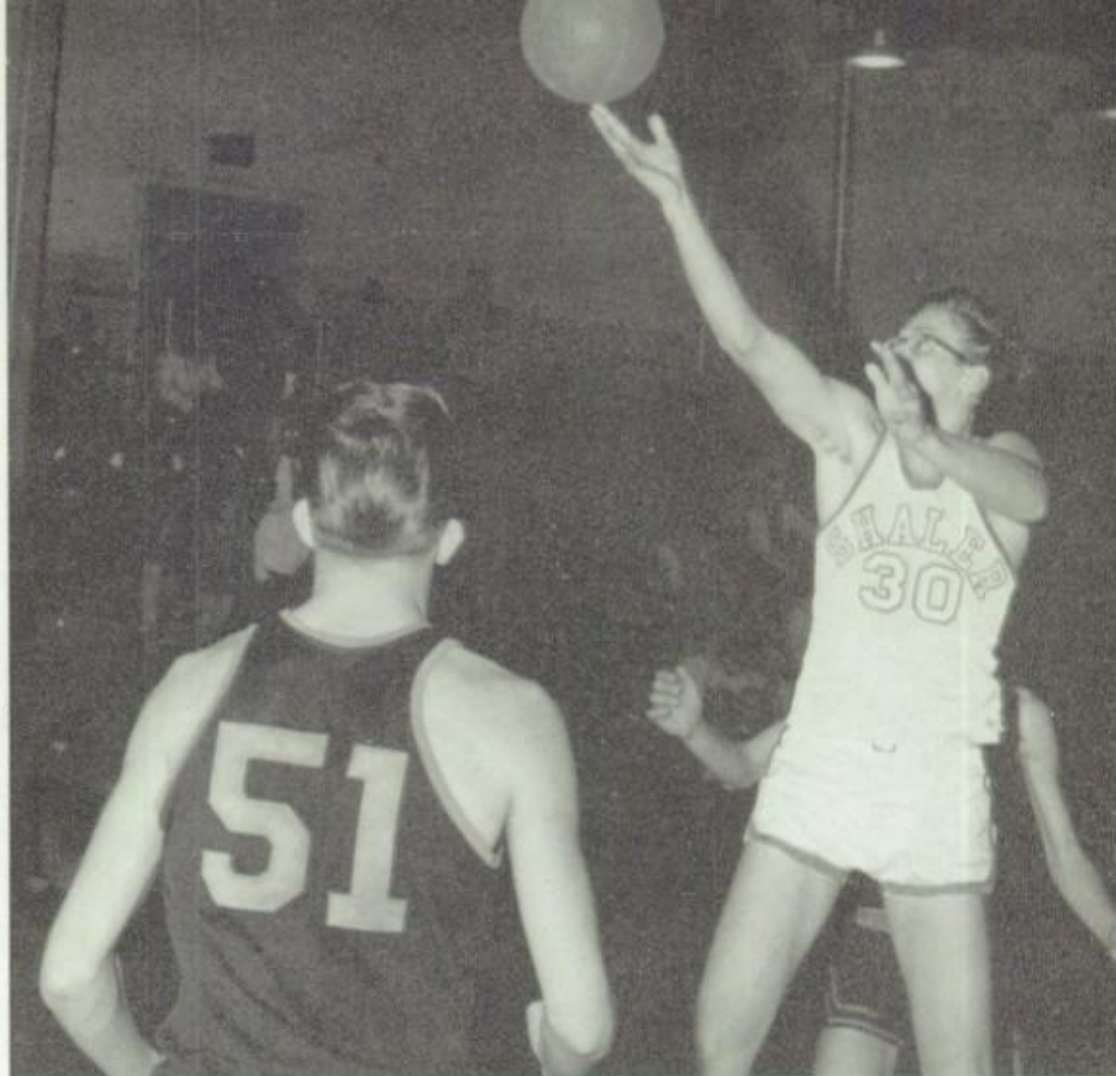

The Christmas tournament was held at Elizabeth-Forward this year. Shaler walloped a highly favored Penn Hills team 70-39 with all five Shaler starters hitting double figures. The second game the Huskies lost to North Hills 66-43, but the third game we beat Bethel 62-54. Since Shaler won two out of three games in this tournament, we won second prize, which was the Consolation trophy.

SHALER'S MATMEN SEND THREE TO

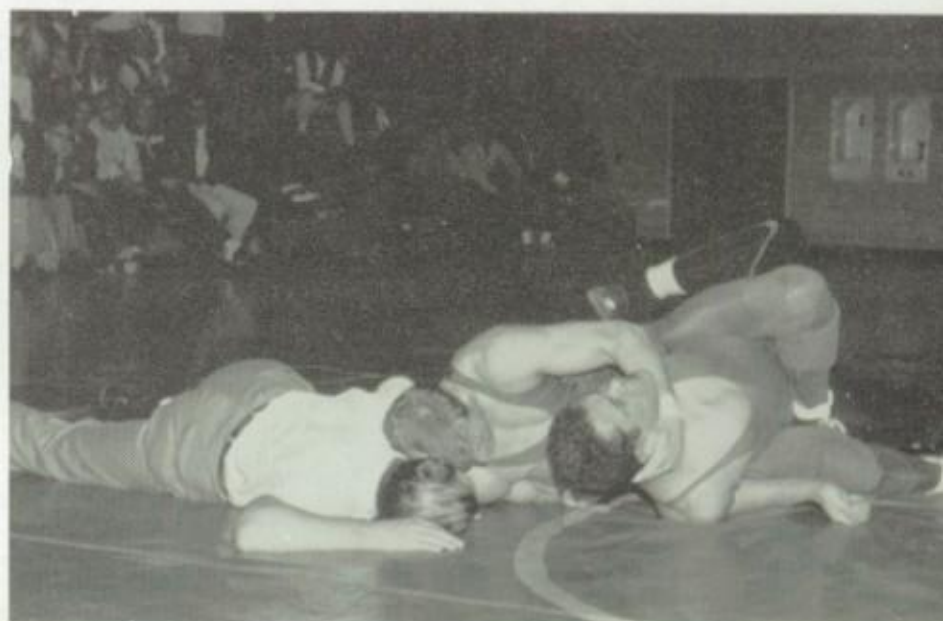

Kopninsky breaks his man down.

For the first time in the history of Shaler the wrestling coaches organized a group of junior high boys to teach them many fundamentals of wrestling. The coaches expect this to bring them many experienced boys for next season. Wrestling, unlike some sports, requires much training in fundamentals before a boy is even ready to try his skill.

Again this year, Shaler played host to the WPIAL Section I Tournament. Other schools participating included North Allegheny, Mt. Lebanon, Carnegie, West View, West Allegheny, Kittanning, and New Castle. Tim Rihn, Bob Kopninsky, and John Ashbaugh all won this tournament and went to Washington, Pennsylvania, on March 14 to wrestle in the PIAA Southwest Regional Tournament.

Boys receiving letters this year were Chuck Shaffer, Tim Rihn, Bob Moore, Skip Ashton, Bill

TRACKERS OFF TO WINNING SEASON

The Huskies' first meet of the season took place on March 21, at Schoonmaker Hall in South Park. Grant Genter placed in the low hurdles and Shaler's mile relay team of Succop, Weitzel, Phelan, and Kuzniewski placed third out of the nineteen schools competing. This preview of the season and the fine efforts shown in practice gave head coach Mr. Charles Lodge and the entire team an optimistic outlook on the track season.

The Shaler Cross Country team, coached this year by Mr. William Keister, ended the season with a 3 won and 5 lost record.

However, these figures do not tell the whole story of the season. There were outstanding performances by seniors Jay Weitzel, who placed in all the meets and placed first in 4 meets; Pat Phelan who placed in 6 of the 8 meets; and Dick Bailey who came out for the team in his senior year and helped the team by placing in 5 meets. Two juniors who came through with a good effort this year were Domenic Di Nardo, who placed in 3 meets and Terry Molnar who placed in 4 meets.

HUSKY NINE LOOKS FOR BIG SEASON

Coach Martin gives Jim, John, and Dave some pointers during an early practice session.

The coming of spring marks the arrival of one of Shaler's most successful sports—baseball. Although most of the 1958 team has graduated, Coach Martin is looking forward to a good season. Last year Shaler narrowly missed winning the section title, losing it to North Hills. This year, with the three returning lettermen, Dave Ruff, Jim Smith, and Bob Mullens, Mr. Martin has molded together many newcomers into a well-balanced unit. Shaler is again competing in a rough section composed of North Hills, North Allegheny, Richland, and Etna. Only time will tell the success that Shaler will have.

RIFLEMEN VIE FOR WPIAL CHAMPIONSHIP

The 1959 rifle team had a very successful season. The team lost only one match and therefore took the Section 2 championship. Under the leadership of Coach William Kapphan, the team placed second in WPIAL, close on the heels of first place Mt. Lebanon. This is the first time a Shaler rifle team competed for the WPIAL championship since 1947.

In the regular season matches the two Shaler high scorers were Jo Politylo and John Mason. For their excellence they were honored at the All-Star Match at Munhall High School on April 16 where both Jo and John were awarded medals. Shaler letters were awarded to seven seniors, three juniors, and two sophomores for participation during the regular rifle season.

CLASSES

CLASS OF 1959

The graduating class of 1959 is composed of many outstanding persons in various fields. Musicians, athletes, scholars, leaders and followers are all represented in this year's senior class. These talents and skills have been developed during the four years of high school. In ninth grade the members of our class chose between the academic program and the commercial plan. The homerooms consisted of either all commercial or all academic students; thus we became acquainted with students of our own interests. However, this system changed as we grew older. In tenth grade we met new students in each different class. As seniors, almost everyone knows all the members of our class.

We have been a part of many activities and learned to work and have fun with one another. The four years here at Shaler have been challenging and fun, but the most important year for most of us has been our senior year. Who can ever forget our senior class trip, the winter carnivals, the class plays, the G.A.A. games, Chapel Choir, or the football and basketball games. In years before 1959 we were followers, but this year we, ourselves, were the planners and leaders.

Miss Bechtel and the prom committee go over plans for the May 22nd dance at Baldoc Country Club. John Nickum and Anita Wright were co-chairmen.

The senior invitations for commencement and the name cards were selected by a committee of representatives from each senior homeroom.

CLASS OF 1961

The sophomore year is the first opportunity that a class has to organize as a class unit. This is a big step in the lives of the students. Usually the sophomore class plans one big event near the end of school for its primary function of the year as a class. The experience in planning and holding such an event as a class dinner or party enables the sophomores to step into their junior year with confidence.

SCHOOL BOARD READIES SCOTT AVENUE

Mr. R. C. Rogers, supervising principal, plays a major part in the education of Shaler Township students.

Shaler Township's School Board is composed of men and women elected by the township residents. These men and women study the problems of education and strive toward promoting the best possible education for the youth of Shaler Township. The School Board is responsible for the hiring of faculty members, the educational facilities in the various township schools, and the building of any new schools that may be needed in the community. Just now the attention of the School Board is focused on the new junior high school on Scott Avenue which will be ready for classes in September of this year. The principal of the new school will be Samuel Boyer and Vaughn Campbell will be the vice-principal. The Scott Avenue Junior High School, which will house the seventh and eighth grades, with its modern building and facilities will be a valuable addition to the township.

Mr. Hench, principal of Shaler High School, is responsible for the instruction and progress of the students.

grade schools, the new junior high, and the high school. Mr. Rogers, on the advice and with the consent of the School Board, makes the important decisions and formulates the over-all policies for Shaler's schools.

In the monthly meetings held at the Jeffery School, the School Board must formulate and then implement the policies under which the schools of the township will function. This is not something that can be dismissed lightly or with the idea of wait-and-see-what-happens. Plans must be made for several years in advance since schools cannot be built in just a few months. Thus census figures must be kept accurately so that the Board knows well in advance where a school will be needed and on what grade level. It is the Board's duty, also, to provide the money to build, equip, and maintain the schools. Shaler's School Board, then, represents citizenship of the highest order.

JUNIOR HIGH FOR SEPTEMBER OPENING

The Administration of Shaler High School has many duties to perform in order to keep the high school functioning smoothly. Our principal, Harold E. Hench, is in charge of the instruction, discipline, and progress of all Shaler students. Working with Mr. Hench are Samuel Boyer, vice-principal, and Edward Winkler, activities director. Mr. Boyer takes care of the guidance program, the distribution of books and supplies, and the problems arising in connection with the attendance of the students. Mr. Winkler handles the activities program which includes sports contests and student assemblies. Our administration works for the welfare and advancement of the student body of Shaler High School.

Mr. R. C. Rogers, Shaler's supervising principal, is the member of the administration directly in charge of all the township schools. These schools now include six

ENGLISH

Students in Mrs. Corda's English class staple their final copies of their term papers.

English is a required subject in both the junior and senior high schools. The year's work is divided between grammar and literature. The basic rules of grammar are reviewed each year and then are put to use in themes, essays, and book reports. Juniors and seniors use the knowledge they have gained in composition for the preparation of term papers which require much research.

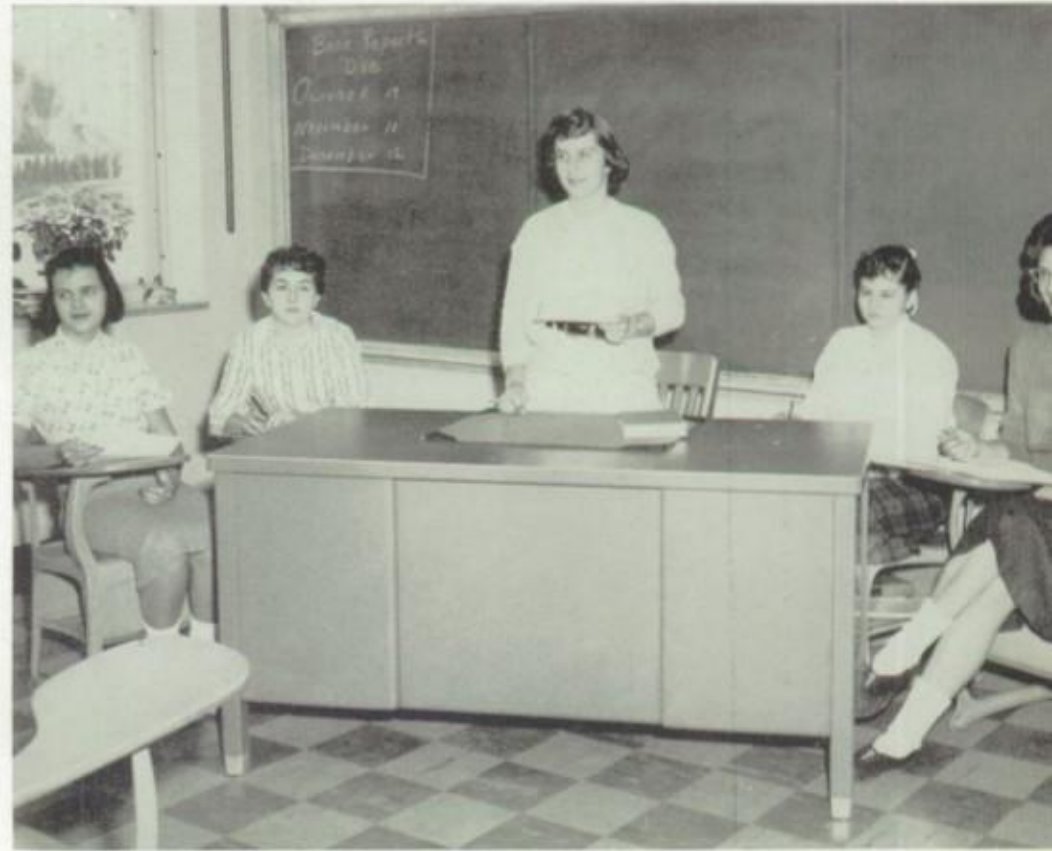

Seniors have a choice of three different English courses; commercial students can select either business or general English while academic students can study either college preparatory or general English.

Juniors and seniors who want additional English courses have a choice of English Composition, Speech, or Journalism. These courses prepare students for college or careers in public speaking or journalism. Shaler's students in both the junior and senior high schools receive a fine background in English composition and literature.

Juniors concentrate on taking a spelling test.

Nancy leads Bonnie, Bernie, Sandy, and Celeste in a panel discussion in Business English.

Students in the seventh grade try to encourage other students to visit the library by exhibiting their posters.

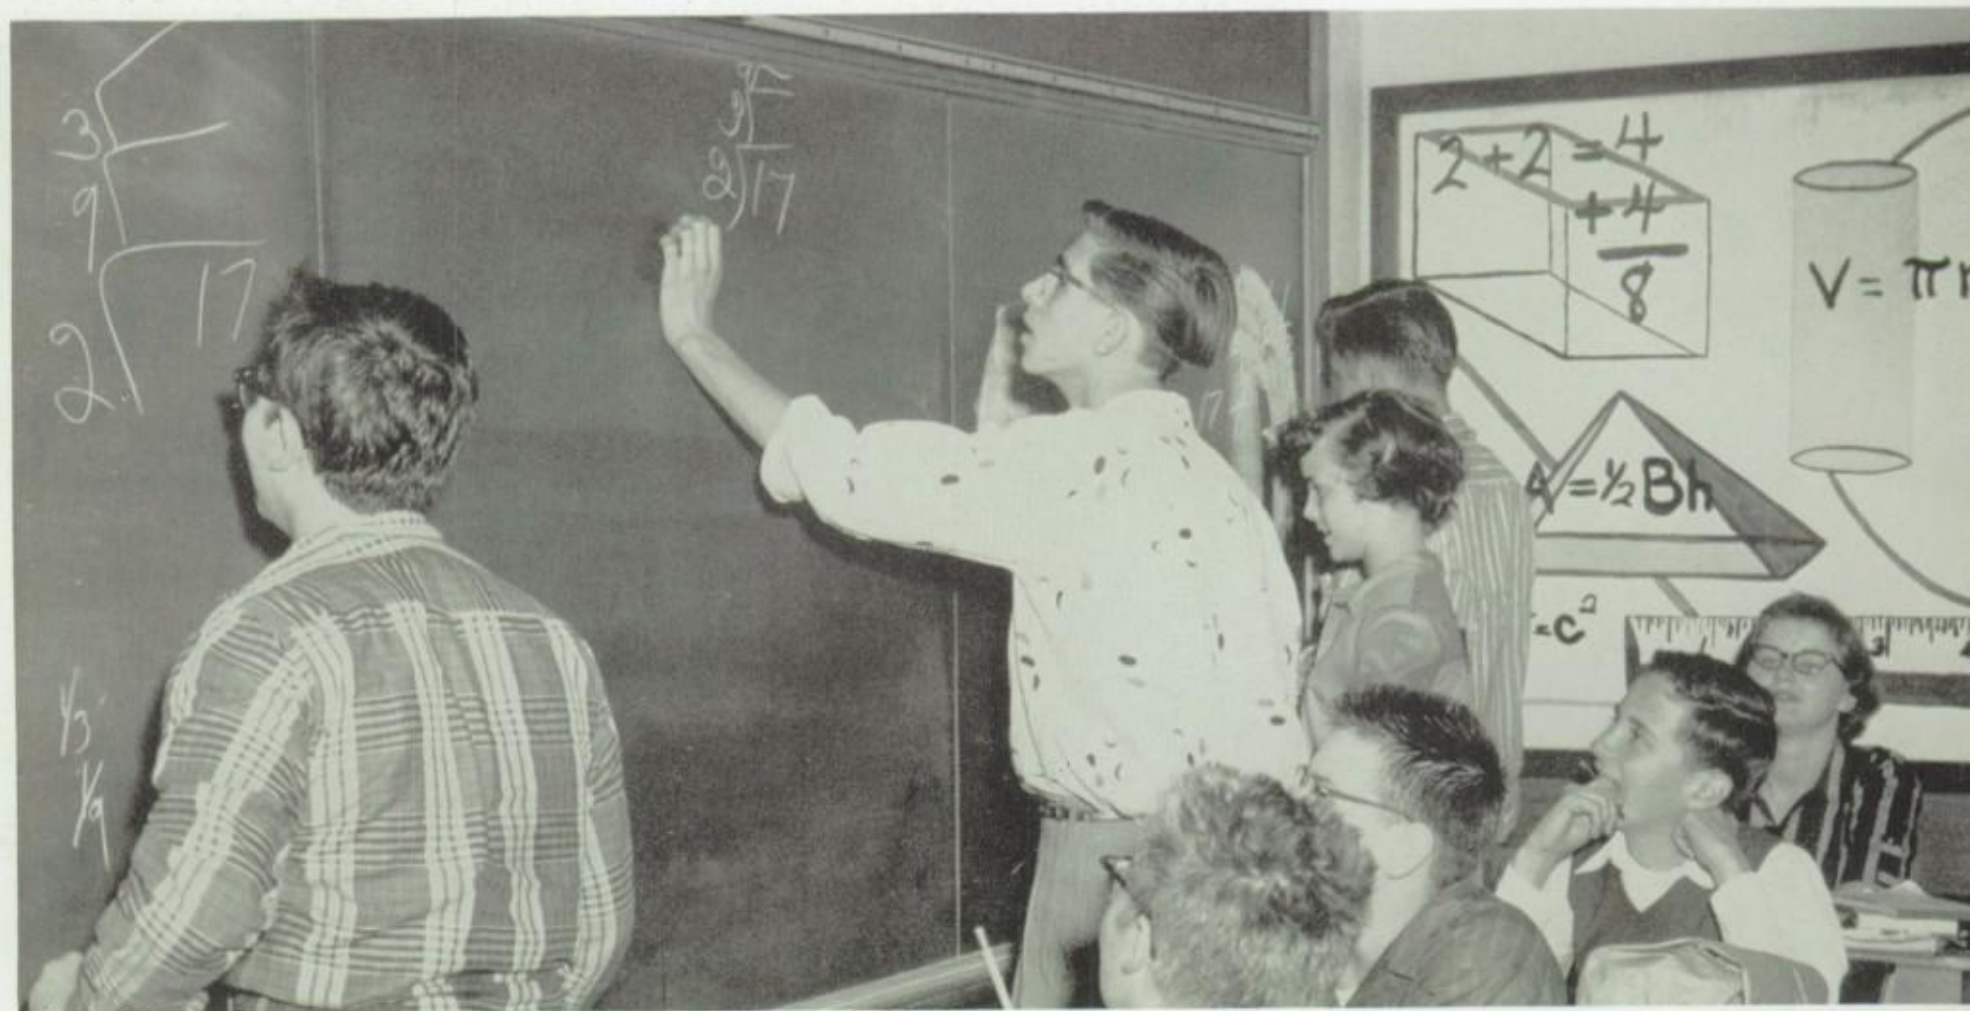

The mathematics teachers at Shaler are Mr. Malberg, Mr. Davison, Miss Balkunowa, Mr. Ford, Mr. Mills, Mr. Auld, Mr. Yankovic.

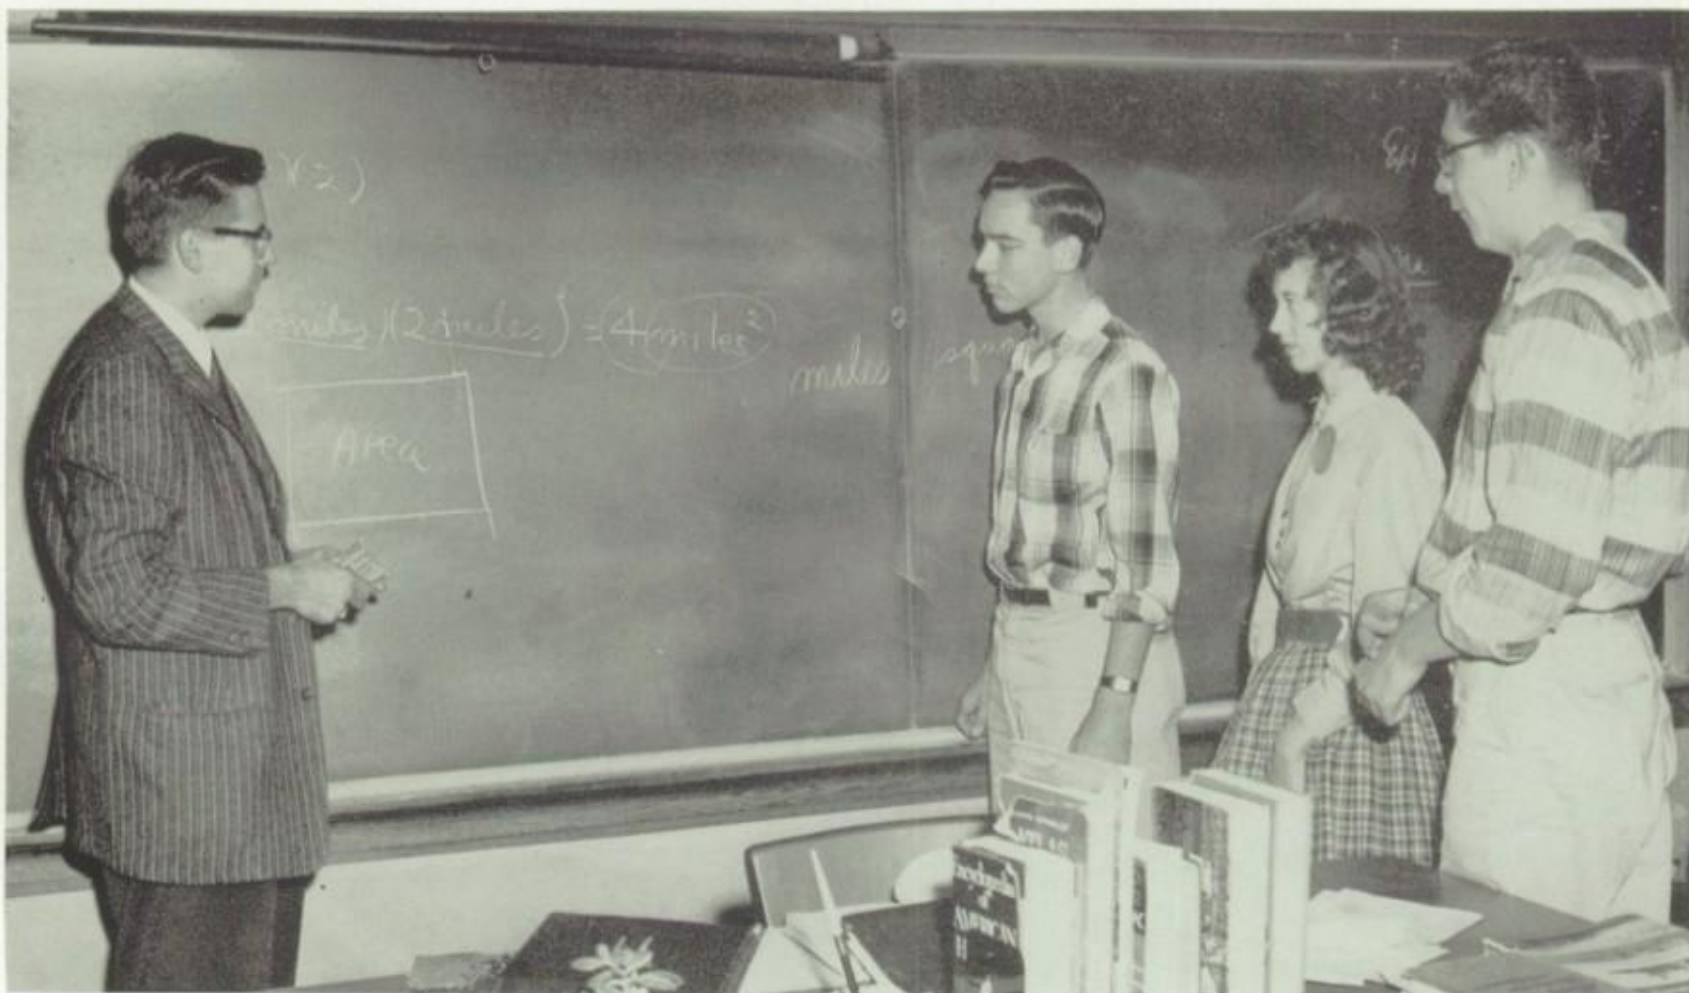

MATHEMATICS

Shaler High School offers a broader mathematics education than most schools. Continuing to develop the fundamental knowledge of mathematics obtained in elementary school, the math course also introduces decimals to the seventh grade students. These students take a placement test which determines whether or not the student is able to take algebra I in eighth grade. Those who do not place well on the test take another year of general mathematics. Ninth grade students have their choice of either algebra I or general math.

Academic students in the senior high are offered plane geometry, algebra III, trigonometry, and solid geometry. Commercial and general students take business math, general business training, and bookkeeping I and II. Seniors may elect to take pre-college math, which gives the student a good preparation for first year college courses. Eleventh and twelfth grade students in all curricula may elect senior math which is a review of general math and basic algebraic principles.

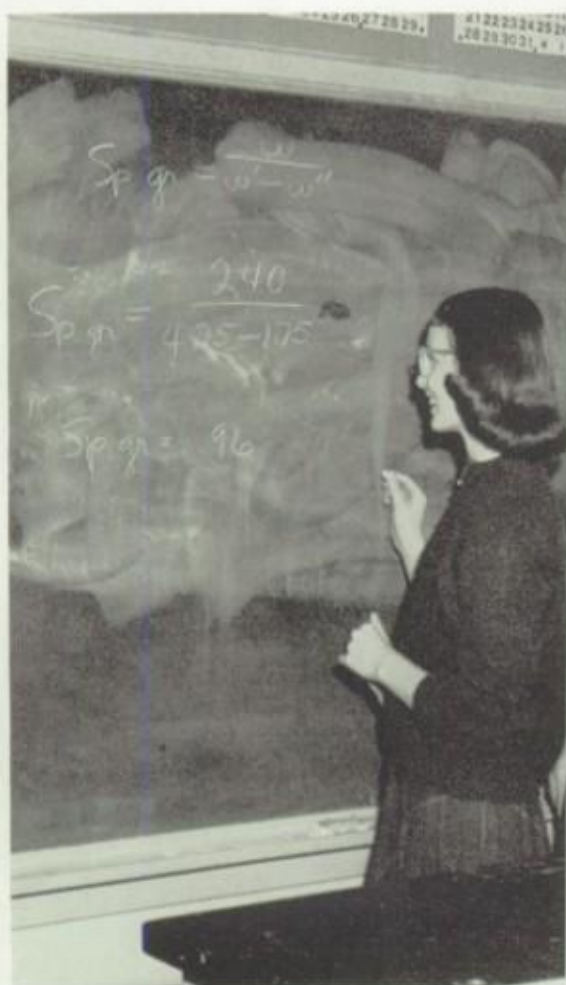

Alex, Ken, Marilyn, and Fred try to work a math problem as the class looks on.

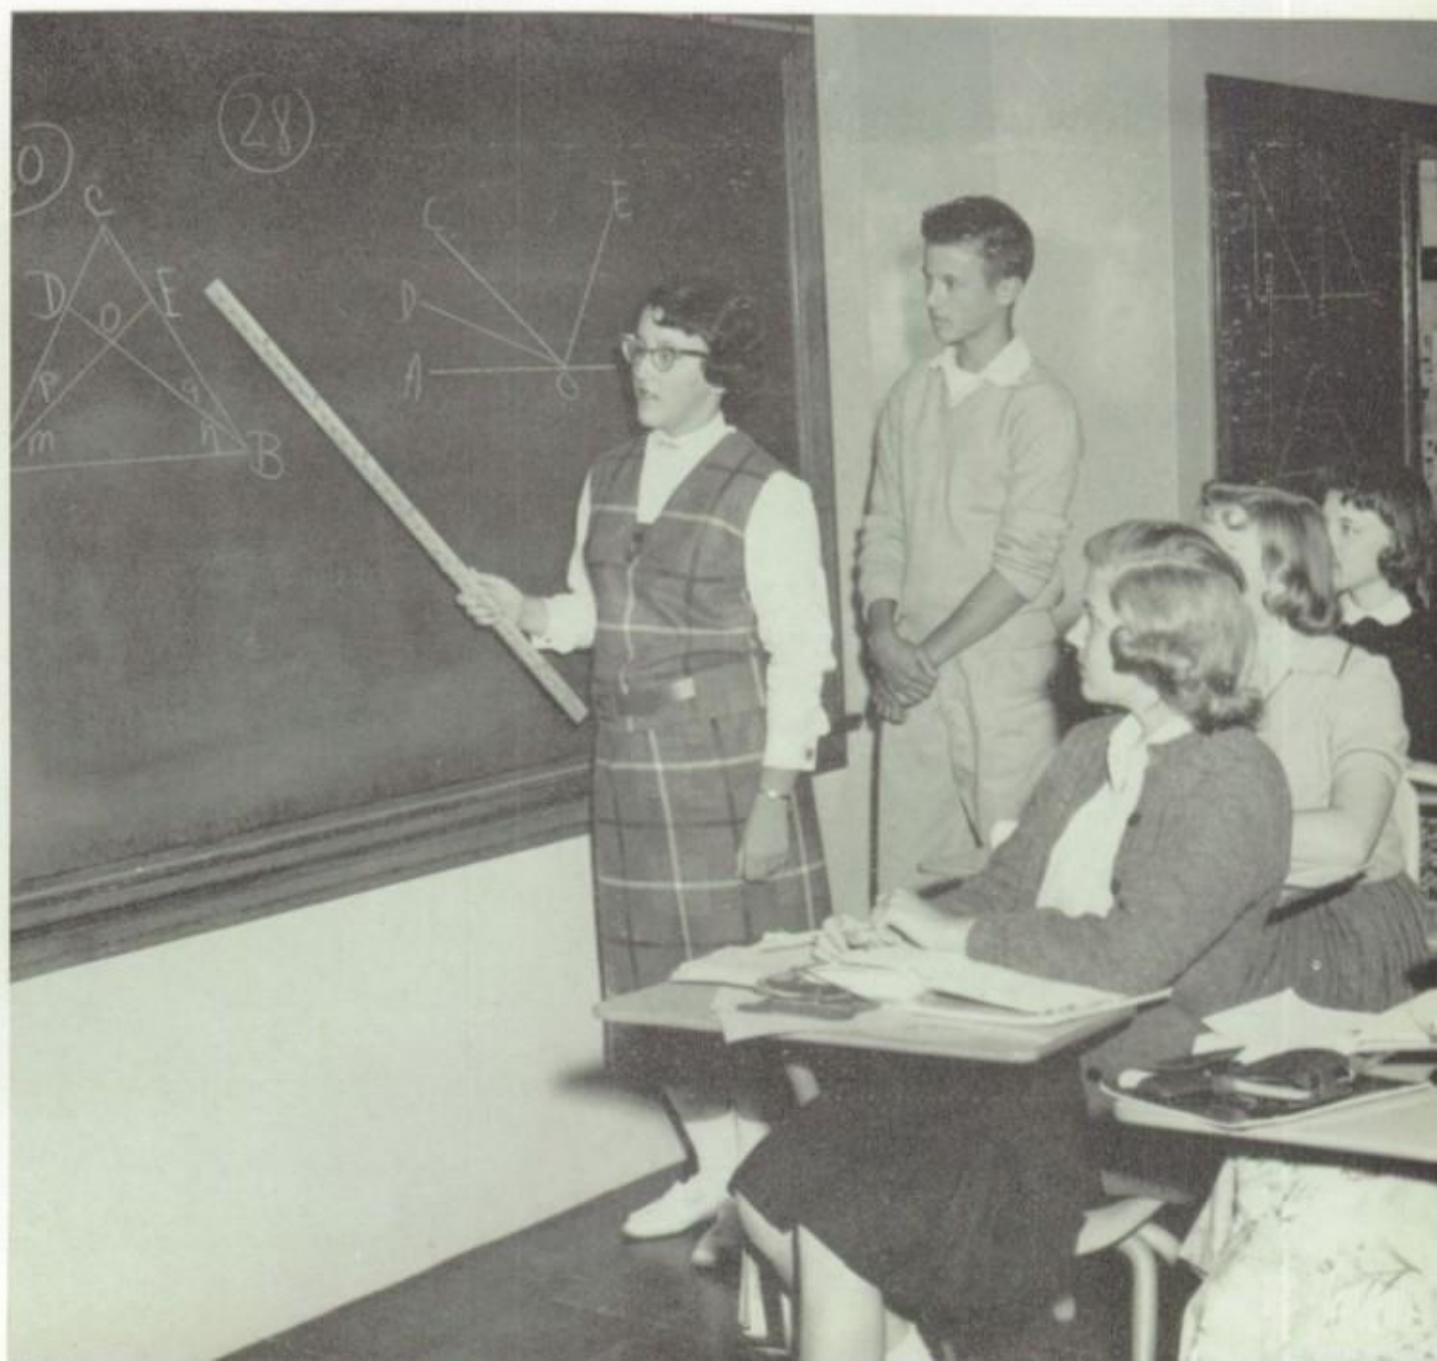

Mr. Malberg explains how to find an area to Fred, Sally, and Dave.

Diane and Tom explain equilateral triangles to a sophomore geometry class.

Caroline checks over a problem.

Mr. Miller, Mr. Keister, and Mr. Myers are the three teachers in Shaler's music department.

Student director of Chapel Choir, George Riffner, directs part of the choir: Front Row: Gauron, Hutchison, Chisholm; Row 2: Breitzig, Stull, Nickum, Flower.

The Shaler Swing Band is composed of: Front Row: Hull, Cogan, Johnson, Meade, Kay, Wetzel, P., Weaver, Rathburn; Row 2: Haughton, Kottas, Smith, Roberts, Housel, Yates, Harbison, Mickley, Wetzel, R., Row 3: Riffner, Ritter, Davison.

MUSIC

Music is an extracurricular activity here at Shaler. Junior high students study music for three years under the direction of Mr. Miller. They learn about the various instruments which comprise an orchestra, and they study the lives of many famous composers. These students learn to read music and to harmonize together, many of them planning to continue music as a member of the Sophomore and Chapel Choirs.

Students in the seventh and eighth grades interested in joining the Varsity Marching Band in later years study under the direction of Mr. Myers. They learn to play their instruments well so that they will be a valuable addition to the band when they are in senior high school.

Swing Band is composed of members from the Varsity Marching Band. This year the Swing Band has had a very active year. Performances at the Winter Carnival and at various school dances and assemblies made the Swing Band very popular with the student body. This organization is a fine addition to the music department of Shaler High School.

A-one, a-two, a-three, a-four . . .

George Riffner appoints Eileen Heller to head up a committee while other band officers look on.

Caroling through the halls is a Shaler Christmas tradition.

Sandra points out the southeastern coast of the United States as Mr. Hurley, Pat, and Paulette look on.

SOCIAL STUDIES

The social studies teachers are: Front Row: Cooke, Langer, Bold, Galbraith, Brown; Row 2: Lodge, Sanderson, Wargo, Hurley.

Every student in the junior and senior high school is required to take a social studies course each year. Shaler's seventh and eighth grade students study both history and geography. Pennsylvania history is the course taught in ninth grade. This teaches the students a little about the state in which they live. Tenth grade students have a choice of either world geography or world history. American history is studied in detail by the juniors. In twelfth grade, the seniors are required to study Problems of Democracy. This course emphasizes the importance of freedom and the problems the United States as a free nation must solve.

Mrs. Cocke conducts a discussion in her American History class.

Ray Klaus and Susan Groh make use of the world globe in seventh grade ancient history class.

Roger Johnson shows Eileen Kreuer one of the important regions in early American history.

Mr. Sanderson explains some of his movies to one of his seventh grade classes.

Penny shows her home economic classmates how to cut a pattern with perfection.

Romaine and Gayle talk as they do dishes in their home economics class.

Ruth and Drenda help Virginia make her jumper by tacking her hem.

Debbie, JoAnn, and Janet work hard in their seventh grade home ec. class.

Patty Schwalm, Joan Robinson, Nancy McNerney, and Mary Jane Smith wash towels which are used in the home economics classes.

HOME ECONOMICS

Home economics is a required subject for all girls in seventh, eighth, and ninth grades for two periods each week. The tenth, eleventh, and twelfth graders may choose home economics as an elective and they learn more about the art of cooking and sewing. Girls are taught the fundamental courses in homemaking which will help make them better family members in their present homes and also help them to plan ahead for their future homes in order to aid them in becoming future homemakers of America. The home economics course includes every aspect of sewing, food preparation, shopping, nutrition, interior decoration, family relationship, child care, and grooming. This year the girls participated in a fashion contest held for the Braun School's PTA; Becky Owens, Cam Rizza, Betty Brown, Carol Heinz, Eileen Alockney received a necklace or bracelet as an award.

Mrs. Pink, Mrs. Whitehead, and Mrs. Arnold enjoy a minute's relaxation in the busy home economics kitchen.

Mrs. Haas, who teaches Latin, Mrs. Mercer, who teaches Latin and French, and Mr. Yenias, who teaches German, are discussing the different methods of teaching a foreign language.

Linda Skory writes a Russian sentence on the board as Roberta Sabine translates it.

Mrs. Obenauf teaches Spanish I the vocabulary through the use of word cards.

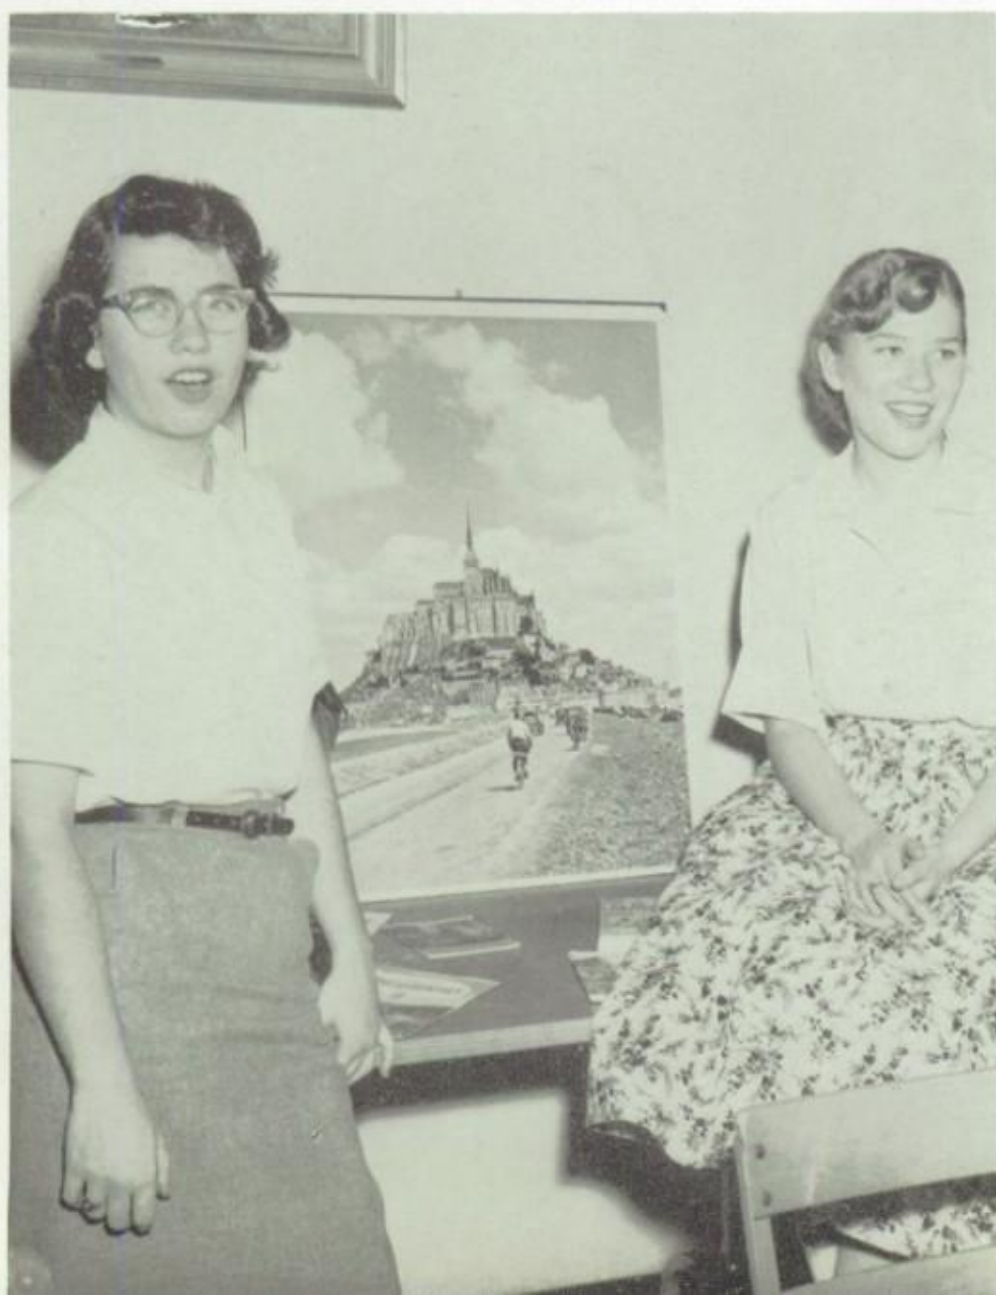

Latin I students demonstrate how "Latin Lives Today."

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Ann Campbell and Jean Brown are saying "le fromage" (translated cheese) in French.

Because Shaler understands and realizes how important the mastery of several languages is to successful living in this age of jet travel, the school provides an opportunity for students to become adept in two or more languages. Two years of Latin are offered and are elected by most academic students as a basis for further language study in the area of modern languages. In this field, the students can choose from French, Spanish, and German. In all three, the program offers three year courses to provide mastery of the language, both written and oral, and to permit the students to acquire fluency in its usage. The language teachers feel that to learn a language completely, the student should become acquainted with the culture, songs, dress and customs of the respective countries in addition to mastering the language. Therefore, the foreign language courses are filled with interesting experiences.

Shaler High School's industrial arts program offers a variety of shop courses to boys from seventh to twelfth grades. Boys of seventh, eighth, and ninth grades are taught the fundamental principles of wood and metal shop and also how to use elementary tools. Senior high boys in metal shop learn how to run the machines involved in metal working. They also learn how to use the various types of metals.

Wood shop for tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grade boys concerns wood working in which they use their imagination to create projects that will be useful to them. Included in these projects are small boats, book and gun cases, and simple pieces of furniture. This year some of the boys have made redwood lawn furniture; end, lamp, and coffee tables; and hi-fi cabinets.

Boys in mechanical drawing classes acquire skill in planning and designing an object before it is manufactured.

Claud, Tom, and Ernie are putting rivets in the tool boxes they made.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Shaler's shop teachers are Mr. Campbell, metal shop, Mr. Chalfant, senior wood shop, and Mr. Segina, junior wood shop.

Tom and Bill put the finishing touches on a bowl they are making in shop.

Many fine projects are completed in Senior Wood Shop.

Senior boys work very hard on their drawing boards in a mechanical drawing class.

Ed works at a machine in metal shop.

COMMERCIAL

Shaler High School has a very extensive commercial department. Students desiring to enter the business world will receive an adequate background in commercial education. Academic or general students also may take advantage of some of the commercial subjects, such as typing and shorthand. All commercial students must study either two years of bookkeeping or stenography to receive a commercial diploma. A two year course in typing is also available, as well as interesting courses in office machines and office practice.

All of the phases of skill and accuracy are covered in preparation for the modern business world of today. The guidance that has been offered in commercial subjects is on a level with that of a business training school. When commercial students graduate from Shaler, they are well prepared to enter any phase of the business world.

Students in eleventh and twelfth grade learn the fundamentals of bookkeeping.

Miss Bauer dictates to Gerry and Judy in the seventh period shorthand class.

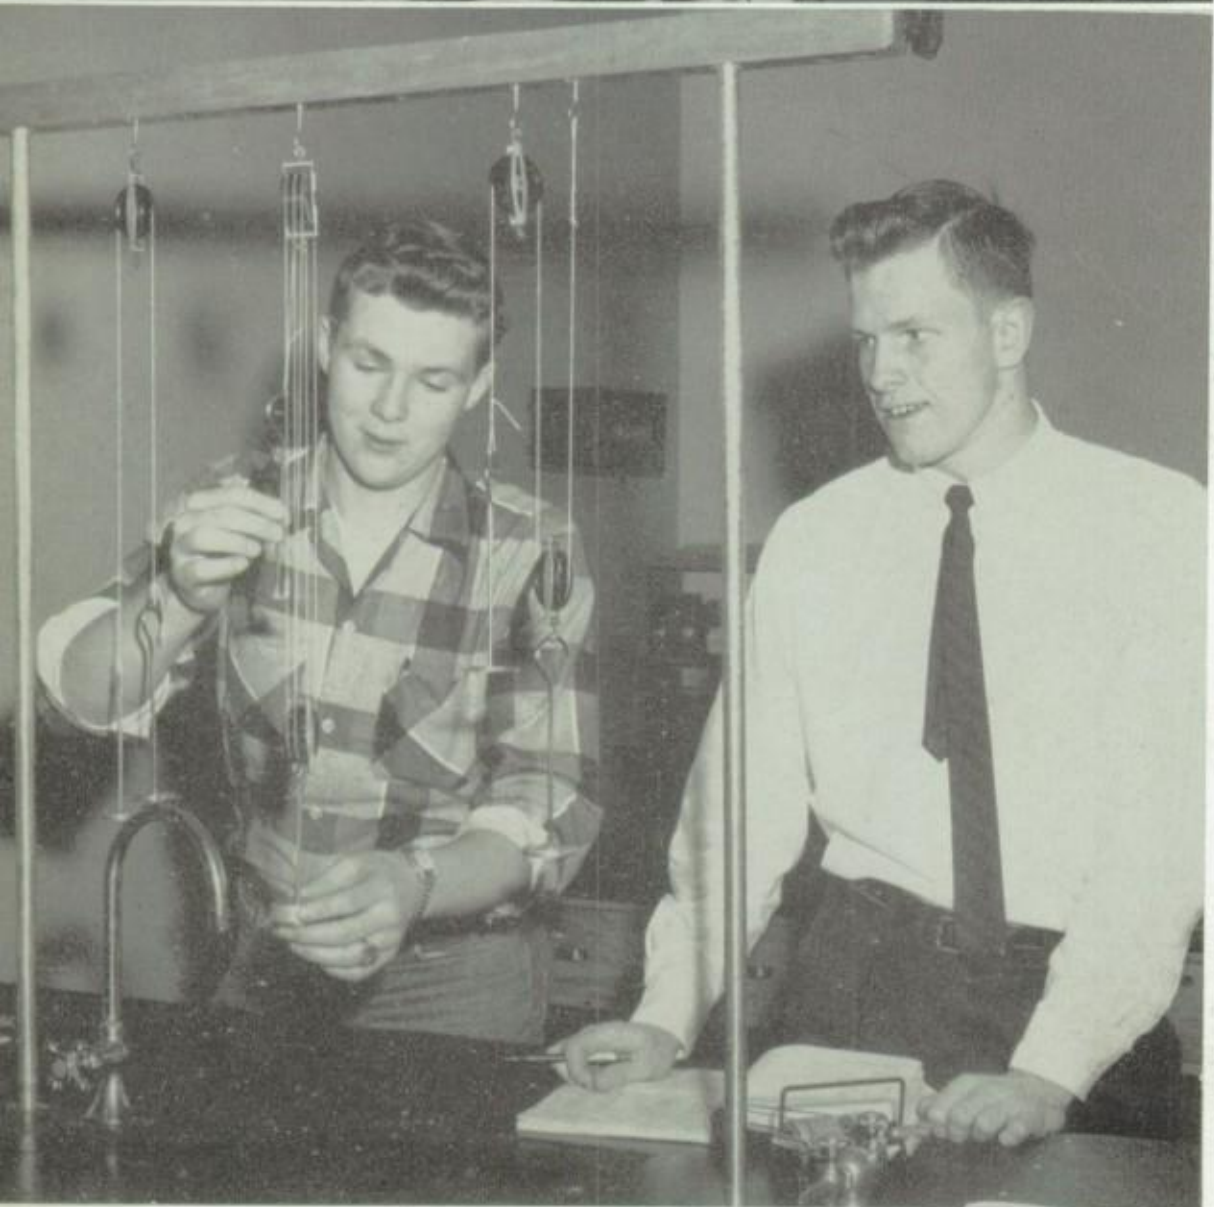

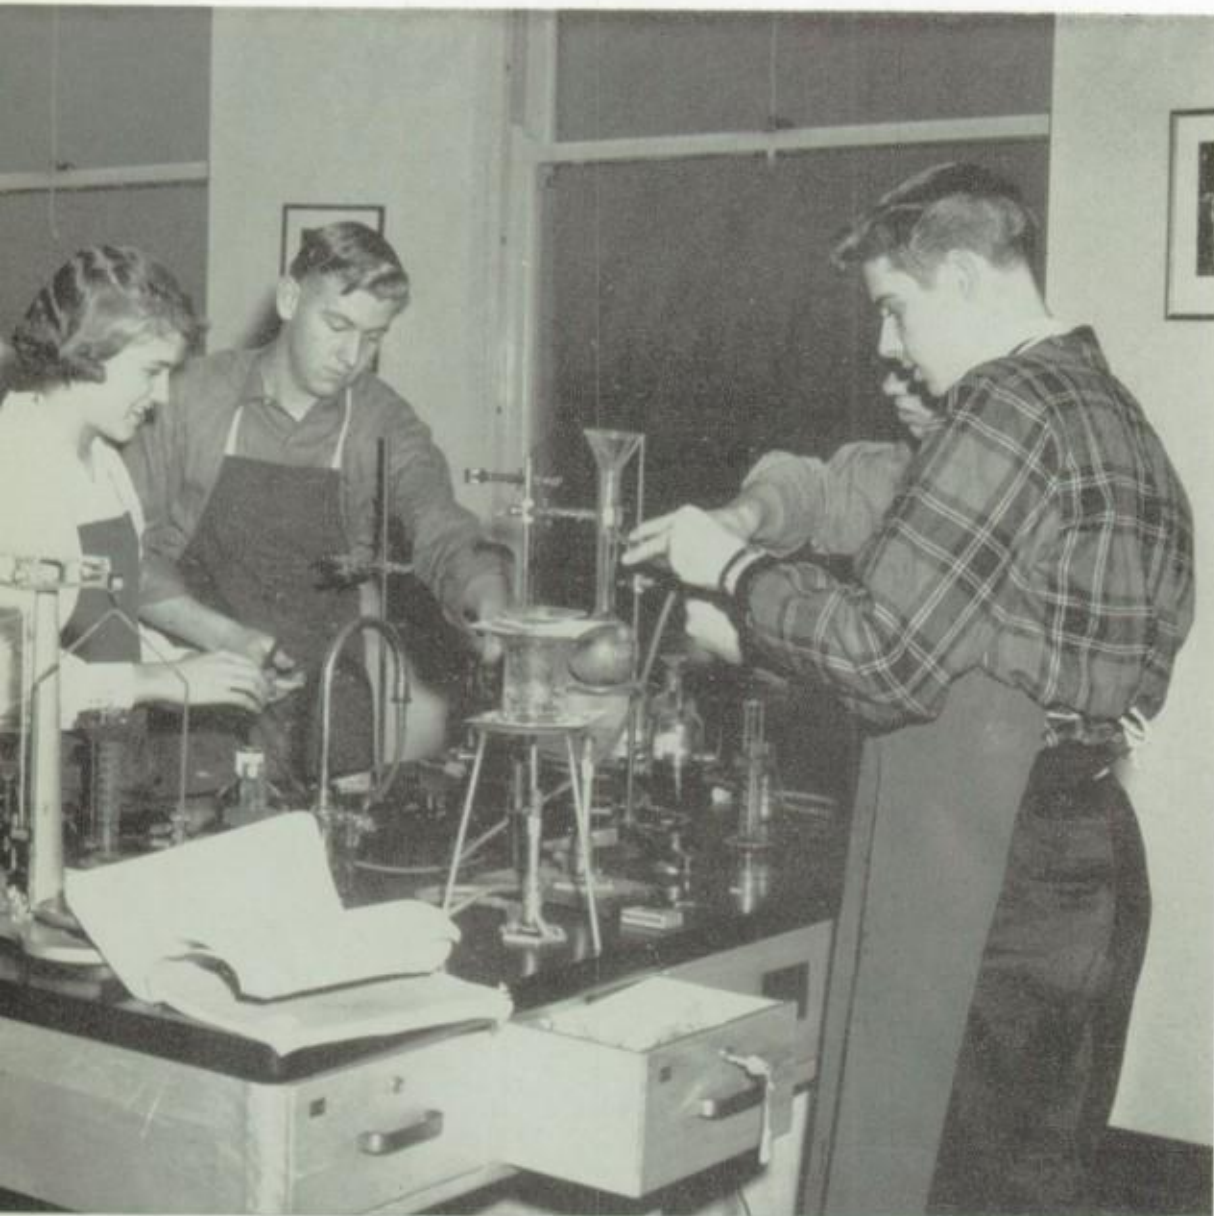

First year typing students become familiar with the basic principles of typing.

Sandra Henninger works hard on the Comptometer in Office Machines.

Shaler's commercial teachers are: Andrew Luko Halechko Front Row: Miss Bauer, Mrs. Wagner, Mrs. Wilkie; Row 2: Mr. Halechko, Miss Long.

Linda and Bob assist Fred and Jim as they perform a crystalline experiment.

Charles Kessler and Bob Trowbridge learn more about compound pulleys.

SCIENCE

The science department of Shaler has organized its teachings so that the students will receive the latest information on this scientific world. This year the seventh and eighth grade students have science for one semester. General science, usually taken in ninth grade, is a general background in all types of science. With this as background, sophomores begin concentration in a more specific phase of science. They find available either bio-ag, a general and practical applied biology, or academic biology, a more technical course for those preparing for college. Seniors, particularly those interested in medicine or nursing, may continue their study in this field by taking advanced biology.

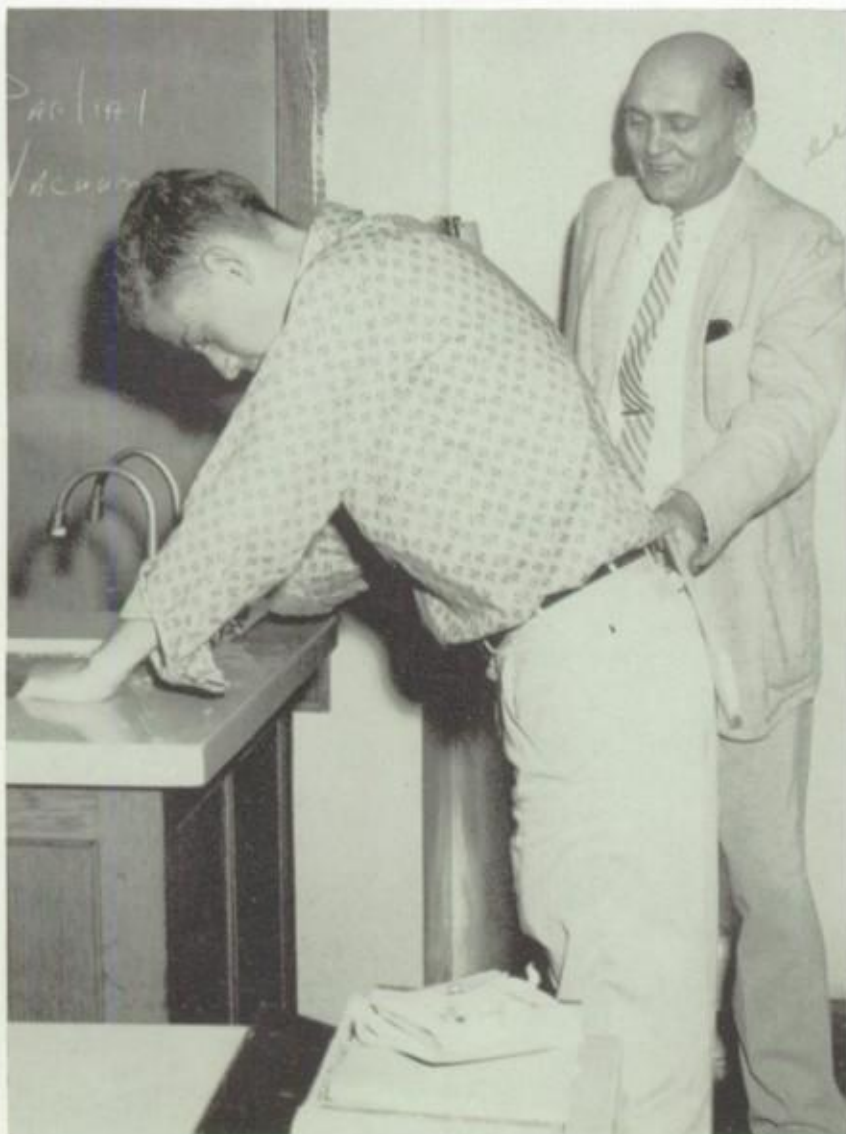

The general and non-academic science is senior science, a combination of chemistry and physics, excluding the math. College-minded students interested in continuing in the study of science are offered two academic sciences, chemistry and physics. These courses include one lab period a week in chemistry and two in physics for conducting the experiments which illustrate the principles learned in class lectures. With the increased emphasis on science and math, all students, not just those preparing for engineering careers, are finding chemistry and physics valuable courses in themselves and not merely as preparation for college courses. Shaler thus offers a variety of science courses wide enough to meet students' interests and needs.

The science teachers of Shaler are: Front Row: Mr. Zook, Mr. Dodds, Mr. Longo; Row 2: Mr. Little, Mr. Malberg, Mr. Berkheimer.

Mr. Dodds demonstrates action and re-action on Jerry Moon.

Judy, Phil, and Sherrie examine cultures under the microscope.

Our two art instructors, Mr. Lakowski and Mr. Chadderdon, discuss some student work to be included in the interesting display on the bulletin board.

ART

Art instruction is required of all students in the seventh and eighth grades. The main purpose of this preliminary course is to prepare for advanced work. Here the students learn how to improve their drawing by doing three dimensional paintings. Also, they experiment with different medias in painting with ink, charcoal, pencil, crayon, and oil. This gives the students background.

The ninth, tenth, eleventh, and twelfth graders are given an opportunity to choose are as an elective. In these advanced courses they learn how to make jewelry, work with different crafts, paint, and learn more about graphic design.

This year the art department students entered many contests. Linda Peiffer won an award because of her ability to design a magazine cover. Jane Bartnicki won a dictionary for designing a newspaper heading. Susan Skinner and Jack Hermann were both winners in the Scholastic Art Contest.

Something new was added this year when the Art Club was formed for all senior high students interested in furthering their art knowledge. The club provides a chance to any student who is good enough to qualify to receive free lessons at Carnegie Tech in the Saturday morning classes which are held from September through May.

Art class provides opportunity for students to paint out-doors.

Bernadette, Rose, Regis, and Don display their talent as they paint in their ninth grade art class.

Betty, Peggy, Diane, and Bill work on many interesting projects in the senior art class.

Lydia, Lorraine, and Dale sketch designs for jewelry in crafts class.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Shaler's physical education program includes two courses, gym and health. Health is taught to give the students a complete picture of the human body and how it functions. Some classes are instructed in first aid so they can be prepared in case of an emergency.

The gym teachers try to provide a widely varied activity program for their students. Mrs. Barr and Miss Ruparcich assume the responsibility of teaching the girls such sports as soccer, field hockey, basketball, volley ball, and softball. Mr. Seibert and Mr. Martin teach the boys exercises and drills that are important to their physical well-being. The boys participate in football, softball, basketball, volley ball, and wrestling. While playing in these activities, students are taught good sportsmanship and leadership.

The shoulder stand helps improve the physical condition of the girls.

Isabel demonstrates the correct way to serve a volley ball while the class watches.

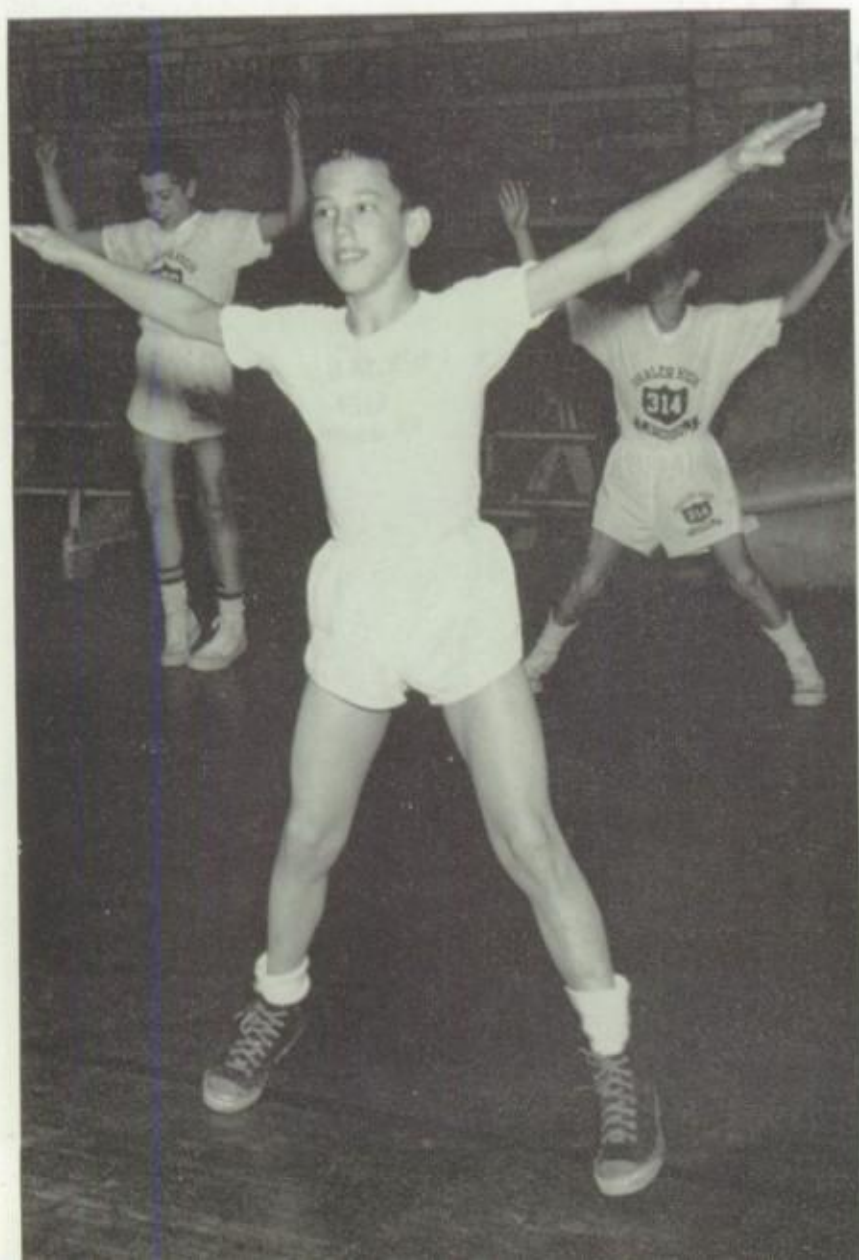

Gail Gozen balances Sue John to illustrate gymnastic techniques for a gym class.

Peggy, Karen, and Eileen practice drop kicks for speedball as the other girls wait their turn.

Boys in the seventh grade gym class do their exercises.

Shaler's physical education teachers are: Front Row: Mr. Martin, Miss Ruparcich; Row 2: Mr. Seibert, Mrs. Barr, Mr. Galbraith.

Gladys finds janitors can be a girl's best friend when the milk machine jams during lunch period.

SERVICES

Quite a few Shaler students would not recognize their school if one or several of its services were curtailed. From the time the bus drivers deliver us to the door each morning until they call for us each afternoon, we have been dependent on many specialized people. Our librarians, Miss Emrick and her assistant Miss Exley, the cafeteria women under Mrs. Speicher's direction, the counselors, the nurse, the office secretaries, the janitors—all make Shaler a pleasant place in which to spend our school days.

Mr. Sanderson, Mr. Crawford, and Mr. Auld are in charge of the guidance program and not only interview all students but are available for conferences about courses or colleges.

The bus drivers are: Front Row: Babelon, Burgunder, Farley, Smalley, V., Barb; Row 2: Rodenbaugh, McChesney, Kallinick, Smalley, C., Baker, Shaw.

Our four efficient secretaries, Nancy Dasch, Marie Hieber, Marilyn Klein, and Pat Teeters, pause from their work long enough to have their picture taken.

Miss Emerick, our librarian, stamps the return date on a book.

Jean Seiler, Gerry Romig, and Jean Brown are giving sympathy to the patient, Dona Dauer, in the nurse's office.

The cafeteria women are: Front Row: Strine, Bock, McPherson, Schmidt, Wise; Row 2: Schiffbauer, Harvey, Szulinski, Skupnik; Row 3: Forsha, Yanke, Frederick, Thunhorst, Fox; Row 4: Wilson, Bober, Wurzer, Domyslawski.

G. RAYMOND BELL

1908-1959

We were all saddened to hear of the passing of Mr. Bell on March 5. And yet, paradoxically, we felt a queer sort of relief, for we knew of his suffering and pain for over a year with an incurable disease. Mr. Bell was associated with the music department of Shaler High School and the surrounding grade schools for over twenty years. He organized Chapel Choir long ago and kept it at its high quality through his tireless effort and understanding.

He was well known outside of school for his great musical talent. However, he wasn't limited to music, for he had many other interests. He was a very wonderful, pleasant person to be associated with.

None of the students knew of his suffering last year because through it all he kept smiling and remained his normal pleasant self. He never lost faith or courage. We became aware of it only when he entered the hospital last June.

Mr. Bell will always be remembered by all Shaler students for his fine organ music.

We all have memories of him from the time when we were in grade school. He came around once a week to lead us in singing. We all remember him singing in a funny-sounding falsetto when he resorted to demonstrating a song.

We were stricken with awe when he came around at Christmastime with his Chapel Choir to sing Christmas carols to us.

However, now that we are in high school the Chapel Choir seems rather routine. But now that Mr. Bell has gone, we realize that to him it wasn't routine; it was an achievement.

Pat
 To a real crazy girl who we had a lot of fun
 with all the rough school
 Remember our crazy classroom had together such a Typing!!
 Bookkeeping & of course the subject that I love the most is History! & to the math all-right. Remember the gabb recession we always had at the bookkeeping class.
 Remember all the yelling & shouting Mr.
 Sallick did to me & the year of course &
 Markler & me. Remember the lozy & boring times we had in old Aaron's class.
 & the way you always said. Would remember at the beginning of the year when I sat between George & Pat. Boy that I have a lot with Pat & left. What a life. I was the one who
 & of course his sorry jokes. Don't ever forget the fun

IN CLOSING . . .

So closes our presentation of the fun and the work which made the school year 1958-59 a memorable one. We have provided the pictures of life at Shaler—academic, athletic, and social—from which your memories will be made. May they be pleasant ones of happy days spent among friends and classmates.

Bat
a girl who
I have known for a long time and who I have gone many places with.
Remember all the places we went in the last few years.
We went to J.P.P., the carnival in Etna Juniata College for a week end and many other places. We had a lot of fun at the Friday and Saturday nights you come down and have fell asleep on you. That was ignorant and I hope you will forgive me.
I know you will because we are to good of friends to be mad.
I guess I said enough so I'll close for now. I know our friendship will always continue
P. M. A.
